NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE Democrats give up everything in Montana except the Governor. That duty is postponed till the receipt of further returns.

IF there had been seven places upon the Democratic ticket instead of six, Sheriff Flack of New York would probably have got one. He is almost as badly in need of a vindication as Wemple and Tabor.

IT is the 4th of October, and Sheriff Flack has not been removed from office, though he is under indictment and indebted for his liberty to friends who signed his bail bond. It looks as though he will pull through till the 15th. Then the Governor can appoint his successor for a full year.

GEN. KNAPP, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, opened campaign headquarters at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York, last night, and was immediately visited by Senator Hiscock and ex-Senator Platt. It is to be a business campaign, the business on hand being the organization of victory.

DR. ALLEN FITCH decides that Christian Deyhle, who shot Frederick Gesswein in New York a short time since because of some fancied infringments on his patents, is insane. It is therefore probable that the perpetrator of this most extraordinary and unaccountable murder will be permitted to end his days in an asylum.

GOV. HILL has started out early in the campaign with a speech the chief burden of which is a defense of Wemple and Tabor. These gentlemen are probably preparing to invade some portion of the state with defenses of Hill. Tweed, Connelly and Sweeney used to whitewash each other in the same sweet fashion.

AN ardent Democrat named Hayes, member of the Pilsner club of Troy, can give the liquor men "points" on raising a campaign fund. While in Syracuse on the day of the convention, he stole $60 from Sate Skinner, keeper of a disreputable house. He was arrested for the theft, but the woman was glad to let him go on receiving back $40 of the loot. The $20 goes to the cause of Democracy and Reform of course.

GOV. HILL is always welcome to Ulster county. He invariably tells the people here something that enlightens them. In 1885, when they knew very little of him, as he had been acting Governor for only a few months, they gave him a majority of 112. Last year he came several times, and the result was a majority of 213 for Warner Miller. Come oftener, Governor. We love you for the enemies you make every time.

HON. GEORGE B. SLOAN of Oswego has been renominated for State Senator by the Republicans of the twenty-first district. Mr. Sloan's public record is a long and honorable one. He served in the Assemblies of 1874, 1876, 1877 and 1879, and was Speaker in 1877. He was appointed Quarantine Commissioner in 1880, and Prison Labor Commissioner in 1884. He was elected State Senator in 1885, and again in 1887. His last majority was 4,754, over James A. Ward, Democrat.

GOV. HILL had better hurry back to Albany and call in his Lieutenant Tabor. The Albany Journal announces that the jury fixer is already at work upon the jury that is to convene on the 7th inst in the matter of the ceiling scandal. While the Governor and his pals are away attending to politics the jury will probably be fixed, as the Journal states that jurors have already been approached with "inducements" to stand out for a disagreement. The case needs immediate attention, or it will not even serve for "a good enough Morgan till after election."

RAY HAMILTON has just begun a divorce suit in the New York Supreme Court. The ground of complaint is the deception practiced by his wife Eva in the Baby Beatrice affair. This baby, Hamilton was informed by letters from his wife in Elmira, was born in that city in December. On January 6th, the baby was presented to him as his child, and he had no reason for denying the parentage. The complaint also states that he has information that his wife had another husband living at the time of the marriage, but is unable to produce evidence of her former marriage. But whether he is able to establish this part of his allegation or not, Mr. Hamilton's grounds for divorce appear to be uncommonly good.

IS ELLIOTT DANFORTH a "paper mash" statesman too? Mr. Danforth recently undertook to explain some stories affecting his integrity. He said: "The only shadow of a pretense for the stories affecting me is that I suggested to State Treasurer Fitzgerald that he could help a few friends of mine by making a deposit in the Merchants' Bank of Albany. Mr. Fitzgerald thereupon made a transfer of $150,000 of the school fund from the Commercial Bank." That is all. He only wished to help a few speculating friends in distress by placing a portion of the school moneys within their reach. Now we are waiting to hear what Frank Rice has done to entitle him to a place on this ticket of lame ducks. Is he selected to be hung between two rows of thieves?

GEN. LESTER B. FAULKNER was yesterday convicted of the crimes of which he has been charged, and sentenced by Judge Coxe to seven years' imprisonment. The verdict and sentence were a terrible surprise to Faulkner and his Democratic friends, who found that their influence over the jury was of little account in a federal court. The counsel took steps for an appeal. The wrecking of the Dansville bank by the Faulkners involved stealings to the amount of about $400,000. Gen. Faulkner was an officer in the federal army and made a good war record. He afterwards became interested in politics to the detriment of his own business interests and those of his neighbors who trusted his integrity. He is an old man, and his sentence is virtually for life if he serves it out.

TIMOTHY J. SULLIVAN ARRESTED.

Came to Sheriff's Office This Morning and Gave Bail in $50,000.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ALBANY, Oct. 4.—Timothy J. Sullivan, John Snaith's sub-contractor on the Assembly ceiling and stair-case contract, was arrested this morning on an order granted by Judge Merwin at Utica on Friday last at the instance of Attorney General Tabor. Sullivan telegraphed Sheriff Rooney from Fort Edward last night that he would appear before him to-day, and true to his word, he came to the Sheriff's office this morning and was admitted to $50,000 bail; George I. Amsdell, one of Albany's leading brewers, and P. McArdle, a prominent iron merchant, going on the bond. Sullivan, in conjunction with Snaith and one other, is charged with fraud and conspiracy on the same grounds as published on Snaith's arrest, and further that most of the estimates upon which Snaith obtained the money from the State Treasury were made by Sullivan's bookkeeper, and also the changing of the joint bids of Sullivan and Snaith for their individual bids after the first meeting of the Ceiling Committee, June 18, 1888.

AN OLD KENTUCKY FEUD BREAKS OUT.

A Bride and Groom Killed while Standing at the Altar.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

JAMBOREE, Ky., Oct 4.—The old Hatfield-McCoy feud has broken out again in Pike County, and at least three more lives have been sacrificed. The latest shooting occurred at a marriage at the farm house of Peter McCoy. His daughter was to become the wife of John Hand, a relative of the Hatfield gang, and both factions had sworn to prevent the union. Hand had not been connected with the dispute of the factions and refused to recognize the leaders. Tuesday night the bridal party assembled in McCoy's house and just as Hand and Miss McCoy stood before the minister a volley was poured through a window which killed both of them and fatally wounded the clergyman. Reports say the farmers and mountaineers of the locality are hunting for the murderers, but no trace of them has been found.

MINISTERING CHILDREN'S LEAGUE.

Foundress of the Order Makes a Pleasant Speech at Chicago.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—The Earl and Countess of Meath joined in a children's service at St. James Church yesterday. At its conclusion the Earl said that the foundress of the Ministering Children's League, of which order it seems most of the children present were members, was present, and he would therefore give way to her. Lady Meath, a handsome and kindly-looking woman, bowed and then spoke pleasantly to the children for half an hour. She told how she had founded the Order in London four and a-half years ago, and said that now there were members in nearly every country on the globe. The only object of the Society was to induce each of its members to do at least one kind act every day.

An Old Woman Robbed in Chicago.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Mrs. Mary O'Brien, aged 60, was robbed yesterday of $3,000, that represented her savings for years. Mrs. O'Brien came from Waltham, Mass., Wednesday, on her way to her son's home at Elgin. She had sold her home, and in a long envelope, buttoned inside her dress, were the proceeds of the sale. Mrs. O'Brien went to a cheap hotel and was given a room. Yesterday the odor of gas was noticed coming from the room, the door was broken and the occupant was found lying on the floor unconscious. Assistance was given with such vigor that when Mrs. O'Brien returned to consciousness her money had disappeared. An employe of the house has been arrested.

Stock Suffering in Manitoba.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 4.—Reports from ranching districts along the international boundary indicate great scarcity of food and water, and stock is suffering. Owing to the unusually dry season the amount of hay put up was small, and immense stretches of prairie have lately been burned over. The outlook is so discouraging that some ranchers offer to give their cattle away, knowing that death from starvation is almost certain.

Receiver Asked for a Railroad.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 4.—A bill in equity was filed to-day by Neil & McDonald, of New-York, against the Shreveport & Houston Railroad Company, in which it is alleged by complainants, who own $78,000 worth of certificates, issued by the former Receiver of the road, that the company is insolvent and has defaulted in the interest of its bonds. The petitioners ask that a Receiver be appointed and the road sold.

Blaine's Speech well Received.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 4.—Secretary Blaine's address at the opening of the International Congress of American Nations has been well received here. Comments heard on the streets place it as the strongest utterance of its class ever enunciated by an American.

DOINGS OF THE EPISCOPALIANS.

Third Day's Proceedings at the Convention Being Held in New-York.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 4.—Promptly at 9 o'clock this morning the House of Deputies of the Episcopal Convention opened the third day's proceedings with religious services conducted by the Rev. Dr. Coit, of New-Hampshire. At 10 o'clock the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix took his seat as presiding officer. The hour set for the continuation of the discussion of the proposed twelfth change to be made in the prayer books was arranged for 11 o'clock. Until that hour the time was taken up with reports of special committees and resolutions.

The Rev. Dr. Franklin submitted a report of the Committee on Marriage and Divorce, and asked that it be read. The House decided against this, and the report was presented without being read. Dr. Franklin then moved that the report be printed, and that its discussion be made the order of the day for Thursday next, or as soon as the present subjects that have precedence have been disposed of. The motion was carried.

Dr. Hoffman of New-York presented a report from the Committee on Canons of Ordination, and had it made the order of the day for Wednesday next.

Petitions and memorials were then received, and several favored and opposed proportionate representation in the General Convention. Memorials from the Maryland and Michigan delegations protesting against a change of the name of the Church were presented. The Secretary announced that the date for the reception to be given to the delegates by the Church Club had been changed to October 14.

The House of Deputies then transformed itself into a Missionary Council. Bishop Whipple, of Minnesota, took the President's chair and after calling for the singing of the two hundred and eighty-fourth hymn offered prayer. The Rev. Dr. Langford, Secretary of the Board of Missions, then presented the Triennial Report of the Board.

ACTION OF HELENA VIGILANTES.

Warning to "Hard Cases" Chalked on Street Corners and Printed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 4—The figures "3-7-77," the warning of Vigilantes to "hard cases," were chalked on street corners and printed in the evening papers yesterday. This call for a return to the methods of early days was occasioned by the discovery of four fires in as many houses the night before in the heart of the business section. All the fires were put out before serious damage was done, and in each case it was found that rags had been saturated with oil and fired. The incendiaries are evidently the gang who have been in North-west towns during the summer and to whom the big fire in Butte last Sunday is attributed.

Prisoners Escaped From a Sheriff.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

JOLIET, Ills., October 4.—John H. Ward, Sheriff of Uinta County, Wyoming, arrived here last night with John L. Smith sentenced for four years for robbery. The Sheriff started from Evanston, Wyoming, September 29, with two prisoners, the other being an Omaha blacksmith, John Bird-all, also convicted of robbery. The prisoners were shackled together. When the train approached Omaha after midnight, Monday, everybody in the car was asleep except the Sheriff, the Conductor and a brakeman. Some one on the platform pulled the bell cord and the train suddenly stopped. The conductor and brakeman rushed out to see what the trouble was. The Sheriff followed them to the car door in the opposite end from where his prisoner sat. As the train started again the prisoners made for the other door and before the Sheriff could reach them they jumped from the platform. Ward searched the country about Omaha for two days and had given the hunt up when he came face to face with Smith walking along the streets. The man still had on his shackels, but the chain which had bound him to the blacksmith was cut in two.

Millionaires Run Away With.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 4.—A horse ran away last evening with John W. Cary and Frederick Layton, both millionaires, of this City. Both gentlemen were thrown into a pile of gravel and rendered unconscious. They were badly bruised and their faces and hands were covered with blood. They were removed to their homes and will probably be around again in a few days.

At Racine Henry W. Shufeldt, the millionaire distiller of Chicago, while out driving, was run into by another team. Mr. Shufeldt was thrown out, striking on the stone curbing of the street. The exact nature of his injuries cannot be determined, but his physicans hope he will escape with a fracture of the hip and several bruises.

Meeting of President's Cabinet.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The regular meetings of the Cabinet were resumed this afternoon, all the members being present with the exception of Secretary Proctor. It is understood the vacancy in the Pension Office was one of the topics considered. Prior to the meeting of the Cabinet the President was closeted for a long time with Senator Hiscock, of New-York, ex-Represensative Weber, of New-York, and Representatives Burrows, of Michigan, and Sherman, of New-York, called.

Mormons Driven Away by "White Caps."

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 4.—The Mormon Elders have been driven out of Wilson County by the White Caps. The Elders disappeared some time ago when the agitation was hot against them, but a few days ago returned, believing the storm had blown over. Forty or 50 men, masked and robed in white, last night visited the houses of William Barrett, Thomas Smith and Lee Barrett, where the Elders had been staying, but warning had been given and the Elders left the County yesterday.

He "Blew Out" the Gas.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 4.—Joseph Devine, a young printer from Albany, had a narrow escape from being suffocated last night by gas in his room at 307 West One Hundred and Twenty-Fifth-street. He retired late and this morning was found unconscious. It took several hours to bring him around. It is surmised Devine blew out the gas or turned the burner on a second time.

Again Placed in a Cell.

By Cable to The Freeman.

DUBLIN, Oct. 4.—The sentence of Charles Conybeare, Member of the House of Commons for Camborne Division of Cornwall, who has been imprisoned three months at Londonderry for conspiring to oppose the law, expired to-day. While he was undergoing the formalities prior to his discharge he infringed one of the prison rules and was again placed in a cell. At 3:30 P. M. Mr. Conybeare was discharged from custody.

ELECTION CONTEST IS PROBABLE.

Tickets Used in Prohibition Contest were Not Lawfully Printed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ABERDEEN, S. D., Oct. 4.—A report is current here that the election will be contested, so far as the Prohibition question is concerned, upon the ground that a large part of the tickets used were not printed upon white paper in black ink, as required by statute. Most of the tickets used in Brown County were printed upon cream paper in blue ink.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 4.—The Journal's Helena special says the situation this morning shows that Toole [Democrat] is probably elected Governor. The rest of the State officers are all Republicans, the Senate also, but the House is still questionable. The Republicans claim the Legislature on joint ballot by three or four majority.

OTHER POLITICAL MATTERS.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 4.—The Republican Convention of the Eighth Judicial District took a recess at 3 o'clock this afternoon until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. Fifty ballots have been taken without material change in the situation. The last ballot was: Barker, 11; Potter, 9; Spring, 6; Lambert, 4. The dead-lock seems likely to continue for some time.

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 4.—The Senatorial Convention took 10 ballots without change this morning, and adjourned to Wednesday next at Auburn.

OFFICIAL TEST OF THE BALTIMORE.

The Vessel Made a Good Showing and May be Given Another Trial.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The official report of the Trial Board on the cruiser Baltimore relative to its recent trial run, was received at the Navy Department this morning. The Board states that the average horse-power developed by the engines was 8,977.88, the requirement being 9,000, thus making a deficiency of 22.12 powers, which would incur a penalty of $2,212. The screw made an average of 117.9 revolutions a minute, which, allowing 16 per cent. slip, would give it an average speed of 19.6 knots an hour. The report states that during the run two of the indicators, which had been thoroughly tested before the trial, broke, and caused it necessary to substitute two others, which had not been tested. On the record of these indicators depended the record of the development of horse-power. Secretary Tracy, after reading the report, decided to waive the question of acceptance of the vessel until he could hear from the Cramps, the contractors, as to whether or not they were willing to let the last trial stand as the final one, or preferred to have another trial run with the indicators thoroughly tested.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Earl of Galloway was arraigned before the Court in Dumfries to-day, charged with indecent behavior toward a little girl named Gibson. He pleaded not guilty, and his trial was set down for October 14.

THE STOCK AND MONEY MARKET.

Financial Doings on Wall-Street To-Day—The Closing Quotations.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 4.—The stock market opened this morning with a renewal of the pressure upon cotton oil, sugar and Atchison, but good support was met on all, which caused great activity in these stocks, while the general list was comparatively neglected, being dull within a narrow range. Under the pressure brought to bear first prices were ⅛ and ½ per cent. lower, and sugar was off ⅞. The trusts yielded immediately, and cotton oil was specially weak, dropping to 42⅞ in the first few minutes, against 45½ last evening, and after a rally to 43⅞ retired to 41½. At 11 o'clock the market was fairly active and barely steady at small fractions better than first prices, while the trusts were again weak at the lowest prices.

The activity in the stock market continued unabated after 12 o'clock. Sugar took the lead and dropped to 83½. Chicago Gas dropped to 55 against 58 at the opening. Cotton oil declined 1½ more, and at its lowest point was off 5 from its last night's price, and lead was down 1⅛. The general list was remarkably well held, though a few specialties yielded, and Louisville & Nashville lost 1⅛ and Manitoba 1. Fears of a money panic and the calling of loans in many cases forced holders to throw over their stocks. In consequence prices declined rapidly.

PANIC IN TRUSTS.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 4.—A panicky feeling prevails in trust stocks at the Stock Exchange to-day. The Post's financial article says: "While the actual amount of gold ordered for export up to noon to-day was in itself unimportant, the total being $1,500,000, the apprehensions created by its export under such circumstances as to have the appearance of some unusual necessity, gave stock speculation a pretty severe set back, and the decline of 1 to 2 per cent. yesterday was followed by some further fractional declines on all stocks this forenoon, so that at 12 o'clock almost every railroad stock on the list was ⅛ to ⅞ lower than last night. Atchison's sales amounted to 32,600 shares and it declined from 30⅞ last night to 29⅞ before 12 o'clock. Missouri Pacific was 1 per cent. lower at 72⅞. After 12 o'clock railroad and trust stocks were lower, sugar being down to 85⅛.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION IN A MINE.

Four Men Killed, One Fatally Injured and 20 More or Less Hurt.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

HOUGHTON, Mich., Oct. 4.—Two men were killed, one was fatally injured and 20 were more or less hurt at the bottom of the Calumet & Hecla perpendicular shaft yesterday. The usual blasts of dynamite were fired on Wednesday evening, but one failed to explode. At noon one of the miners accidentally struck the charge with his pick. A deafening crash followed, the dynamite exploding and sending masses of shattered rock in deadly showers all around. Otto Flink and George Erickson were killed instantly, their bodies being frightfully torn and scarred by flying rocks. Nelson Boone, who stood a short distance off, was hurled against a rock and sustained serious injuries. Captain John Cameron had his right arm broken in two places by pieces of stone, both his legs being also cut in many places. The accident took place 1,000 feet under ground.

New Fast Mail Train.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—J. Lowrie Bell, the General Superintendent of the Railway Mail Service, has consummated an arrangement with the New-York Central and Lake Shore Railroad companies by which a new fast mail train from New-York to Chicago will be established next Sunday. The train will leave New-York City at 8:50 in the morning and reach Chicago at 9:50 o'clock the next morning. This train will reduce the time of the arrival of the morning mail in Chicago over four hours and will carry a full force of railway postal clerks who will take on mails along the entire route. It is proposed to make the separations on the postal cars so complete that the letters will be in readiness for delivery immediately after the train reaches Chicago.

States Rights in Iowa.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

DESMOINES, Ia., Oct. 4.—In the report of Horace A. Taylor, National Commissioner of the Railroads, appear some strictures upon the Iowa Railroad laws. Governor Larrabee has written a letter to President Harrison defending the law and protesting against the interference of the Railroad Commissioner in Iowa affairs. He says Iowa people are abundently able to manage their own affairs and do not need the assistance or advice of the Government officials.

A Defective High License Law.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

LANSING, Mich., Oct. 4.—Owing to a mistake made by a bill clerk, Section 10 of the new High License Liquor Law is void. This section compelled druggists to secure permits and make annual statements of sales. This, it is considered, will not invalidate the entire law, but it removes all restrictions upon druggists.

NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE Democrats give up everything in Montana except the Governor. That duty is postponed till the receipt of further returns.

IF there had been seven places upon the Democratic ticket instead of six, Sheriff Flack of New York would probably have got one. He is almost as badly in need of a vindication as Wemple and Tabor.

IT is the 4th of October, and Sheriff Flack has not been removed from office, though he is under indictment and indebted for his liberty to friends who signed his bail bond. It looks as though he will pull through till the 15th. Then the Governor can appoint his successor for a full year.

GEN. KNAPP, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, opened campaign headquarters at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York, last night, and was immediately visited by Senator Hiscock and ex-Senator Platt. It is to be a business campaign, the business on hand being the organization of victory.

DR. ALLEN FITCH decides that Christian Deyhle, who shot Frederick Gesswein in New York a short time since because of some fancied infringments on his patents, is insane. It is therefore probable that the perpetrator of this most extraordinary and unaccountable murder will be permitted to end his days in an asylum.

GOV. HILL has started out early in the campaign with a speech the chief burden of which is a defense of Wemple and Tabor. These gentlemen are probably preparing to invade some portion of the state with defenses of Hill. Tweed, Connelly and Sweeney used to whitewash each other in the same sweet fashion.

AN ardent Democrat named Hayes, member of the Pilsner club of Troy, can give the liquor men "points" on raising a campaign fund. While in Syracuse on the day of the convention, he stole $60 from Sate Skinner, keeper of a disreputable house. He was arrested for the theft, but the woman was glad to let him go on receiving back $40 of the loot. The $20 goes to the cause of Democracy and Reform of course.

GOV. HILL is always welcome to Ulster county. He invariably tells the people here something that enlightens them. In 1885, when they knew very little of him, as he had been acting Governor for only a few months, they gave him a majority of 112. Last year he came several times, and the result was a majority of 213 for Warner Miller. Come oftener, Governor. We love you for the enemies you make every time.

HON. GEORGE B. SLOAN of Oswego has been renominated for State Senator by the Republicans of the twenty-first district. Mr. Sloan's public record is a long and honorable one. He served in the Assemblies of 1874, 1876, 1877 and 1879, and was Speaker in 1877. He was appointed Quarantine Commissioner in 1880, and Prison Labor Commissioner in 1884. He was elected State Senator in 1885, and again in 1887. His last majority was 4,754, over James A. Ward, Democrat.

GOV. HILL had better hurry back to Albany and call in his Lieutenant Tabor. The Albany Journal announces that the jury fixer is already at work upon the jury that is to convene on the 7th inst in the matter of the ceiling scandal. While the Governor and his pals are away attending to politics the jury will probably be fixed, as the Journal states that jurors have already been approached with "inducements" to stand out for a disagreement. The case needs immediate attention, or it will not even serve for "a good enough Morgan till after election."

RAY HAMILTON has just begun a divorce suit in the New York Supreme Court. The ground of complaint is the deception practiced by his wife Eva in the Baby Beatrice affair. This baby, Hamilton was informed by letters from his wife in Elmira, was born in that city in December. On January 6th, the baby was presented to him as his child, and he had no reason for denying the parentage. The complaint also states that he has information that his wife had another husband living at the time of the marriage, but is unable to produce evidence of her former marriage. But whether he is able to establish this part of his allegation or not, Mr. Hamilton's grounds for divorce appear to be uncommonly good.

IS ELLIOTT DANFORTH a "paper mash" statesman too? Mr. Danforth recently undertook to explain some stories affecting his integrity. He said: "The only shadow of a pretense for the stories affecting me is that I suggested to State Treasurer Fitzgerald that he could help a few friends of mine by making a deposit in the Merchants' Bank of Albany. Mr. Fitzgerald thereupon made a transfer of $150,000 of the school fund from the Commercial Bank." That is all. He only wished to help a few speculating friends in distress by placing a portion of the school moneys within their reach. Now we are waiting to hear what Frank Rice has done to entitle him to a place on this ticket of lame ducks. Is he selected to be hung between two rows of thieves?

GEN. LESTER B. FAULKNER was yesterday convicted of the crimes of which he has been charged, and sentenced by Judge Coxe to seven years' imprisonment. The verdict and sentence were a terrible surprise to Faulkner and his Democratic friends, who found that their influence over the jury was of little account in a federal court. The counsel took steps for an appeal. The wrecking of the Dansville bank by the Faulkners involved stealings to the amount of about $400,000. Gen. Faulkner was an officer in the federal army and made a good war record. He afterwards became interested in politics to the detriment of his own business interests and those of his neighbors who trusted his integrity. He is an old man, and his sentence is virtually for life if he serves it out.

TIMOTHY J. SULLIVAN ARRESTED.

Came to Sheriff's Office This Morning and Gave Bail in $50,000.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ALBANY, Oct. 4.—Timothy J. Sullivan, John Snaith's sub-contractor on the Assembly ceiling and stair-case contract, was arrested this morning on an order granted by Judge Merwin at Utica on Friday last at the instance of Attorney General Tabor. Sullivan telegraphed Sheriff Rooney from Fort Edward last night that he would appear before him to-day, and true to his word, he came to the Sheriff's office this morning and was admitted to $50,000 bail; George I. Amsdell, one of Albany's leading brewers, and P. McArdle, a prominent iron merchant, going on the bond. Sullivan, in conjunction with Snaith and one other, is charged with fraud and conspiracy on the same grounds as published on Snaith's arrest, and further that most of the estimates upon which Snaith obtained the money from the State Treasury were made by Sullivan's bookkeeper, and also the changing of the joint bids of Sullivan and Snaith for their individual bids after the first meeting of the Ceiling Committee, June 18, 1888.

AN OLD KENTUCKY FEUD BREAKS OUT.

A Bride and Groom Killed while Standing at the Altar.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

JAMBOREE, Ky., Oct 4.—The old Hatfield-McCoy feud has broken out again in Pike County, and at least three more lives have been sacrificed. The latest shooting occurred at a marriage at the farm house of Peter McCoy. His daughter was to become the wife of John Hand, a relative of the Hatfield gang, and both factions had sworn to prevent the union. Hand had not been connected with the dispute of the factions and refused to recognize the leaders. Tuesday night the bridal party assembled in McCoy's house and just as Hand and Miss McCoy stood before the minister a volley was poured through a window which killed both of them and fatally wounded the clergyman. Reports say the farmers and mountaineers of the locality are hunting for the murderers, but no trace of them has been found.

MINISTERING CHILDREN'S LEAGUE.

Foundress of the Order Makes a Pleasant Speech at Chicago.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—The Earl and Countess of Meath joined in a children's service at St. James Church yesterday. At its conclusion the Earl said that the foundress of the Ministering Children's League, of which order it seems most of the children present were members, was present, and he would therefore give way to her. Lady Meath, a handsome and kindly-looking woman, bowed and then spoke pleasantly to the children for half an hour. She told how she had founded the Order in London four and a half years ago, and said that now there were members in nearly every country on the globe. The only object of the Society was to induce each of its members to do at least one kind act every day.

An Old Woman Robbed in Chicago.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Mrs. Mary O'Brien, aged 60, was robbed yesterday of $3,000, that represented her savings for years. Mrs. O'Brien came from Waltham, Mass., Wednesday, on her way to her son's home at Elgin. She had sold her home, and in a long envelope, buttoned inside her dress, were the proceeds of the sale. Mrs. O'Brien went to a cheap hotel and was given a room. Yesterday the odor of gas was noticed coming from the room, the door was broken and the occupant was found lying on the floor unconscious. Assistance was given with such vigor that when Mrs. O'Brien returned to consciousness her money had disappeared. An employe of the house has been arrested.

Stock Suffering in Manitoba.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 4.—Reports from ranching districts along the international boundary indicate great scarcity of food and water, and stock is suffering. Owing to the unusually dry season the amount of hay put up was small, and immense stretches of prairie have lately been burned over. The outlook is so discouraging that some ranchers offer to give their cattle away, knowing that death from starvation is almost certain.

Receiver Asked for a Railroad.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 4.—A bill in equity was filed to-day by Neil & McDonald, of New-York, against the Shreveport & Houston Railroad Company, in which it is alleged by complainants, who own $78,000 worth of certificates, issued by the former Receiver of the road, that the company is insolvent and has defaulted in the interest of its bonds. The petitioners ask that a Receiver be appointed and the road sold.

Blaine's Speech well Received.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 4.—Secretary Blaine's address at the opening of the International Congress of American Nations has been well received here. Comments heard on the streets place it as the strongest utterance of its class ever enunciated by an American.

DOINGS OF THE EPISCOPALIANS.

Third Day's Proceedings at the Convention Being Held in New-York.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

NEW-YORK, Oct. 4.—Promptly at 9 o'clock this morning the House of Deputies of the Episcopal Convention opened the third day's proceedings with religious services conducted by the Rev. Dr. Coit, of New-Hampshire. At 10 o'clock the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix took his seat as presiding officer. The hour set for the continuation of the discussion of the proposed twelfth change to be made in the prayer books was arranged for 11 o'clock. Until that hour the time was taken up with reports of special committees and resolutions.

The Rev. Dr. Franklin submitted a report of the Committee on Marriage and Divorce, and asked that it be read. The House decided against this, and the report was presented without being read. Dr. Franklin then moved that the report be printed, and that its discussion be made the order of the day for Thursday next, or as soon as the present subjects that have precedence have been disposed of. The motion was carried.

Dr. Hoffman, of New York, presented a report from the Committee on Canons of Ordination, and had it made the order of the day for Wednesday next.

Petitions and memorials were then received, and several favored and opposed proportionate representation in the General Convention. Memorials from the Maryland and Michigan delegations protesting against a change of the name of the Church were presented. The Secretary announced that the date for the reception to be given to the delegates by the Church Club had been changed to October 14.

The House of Deputies then transformed itself into a Missionary Council. Bishop Whipple, of Minnesota, took the President's chair and after calling for the singing of the two hundred and eighty-fourth hymn offered prayer. The Rev. Dr. Langford, Secretary of the Board of Missions, then presented the Triennial Report of the Board.

ACTION OF HELENA VIGILANTES.

Warning to "Hard Cases" Chalked on Street Corners and Printed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 4.—The figures "3-7-77," the warning of Vigilantes to "hard cases," were chalked on street corners and printed in the evening papers yesterday. This call for a return to the methods of early days was occasioned by the discovery of four fires in as many houses the night before in the heart of the business section. All the fires were put out before serious damage was done, and in each case it was found that rags had been saturated with oil and fired. The incendiaries are evidently the gang who have been in North-west towns during the summer and to whom the big fire in Butte last Sunday is attributed.

Prisoners Escaped From a Sheriff.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

JOLIET, Ills., October 4.—John H. Ward, Sheriff of Uinta County, Wyoming, arrived here last night with John L. Smith sentenced for four years for robbery. The Sheriff started from Evanston, Wyoming, September 29, with two prisoners, the other being an Omaha blacksmith, John Bird-sail, also convicted of robbery. The prisoners were shackled together. When the train approached Omaha after midnight, Monday, everybody in the car was asleep except the Sheriff, the Conductor and a brakeman. Some one on the platform pulled the bell cord and the train suddenly stopped. The conductor and brakeman rushed out to see what the trouble was. The Sheriff followed them to the car door in the opposite end from where his prisoner sat. As the train started again the prisoners made for the other door and before the Sheriff could reach them they jumped from the platform. Ward searched the country about Omaha for two days and had given the hunt up when he came face to face with Smith walking along the streets. The man still had on his shackels, but the chain which had bound him to the blacksmith was cut in two.

Millionaires Run Away With.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 4.—A horse ran away last evening with John W. Cary and Frederick Layton, both millionaires, of this City. Both gentlemen were thrown into a pile of gravel and rendered unconscious. They were badly bruised and their faces and hands were covered with blood. They were removed to their homes and will probably be around again in a few days.

At Racine Henry W. Shufeldt, the millionaire distiller of Chicago, while out driving, was run into by another team. Mr. Shufeldt was thrown out, striking on the stone curbing of the street. The exact nature of his injuries cannot be determined, but his physicans hope he will escape with a fracture of the hip and several bruises.

Meeting of President's Cabinet.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The regular meetings of the Cabinet were resumed this afternoon, all the members being present with the exception of Secretary Proctor. It is understood the vacancy in the Pension Office was one of the topics considered. Prior to the meeting of the Cabinet the President was closeted for a long time with Senator Hiscock, of New-York, ex-Represensative Weber, of New-York, and Representatives Burrows, of Michigan, and Sherman, of New-York, called.

Mormons Driven Away by "White Caps."

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 4.—The Mormon Elders have been driven out of Wilson County by the White Caps. The Elders disappeared some time ago when the agitation was hot against them, but a few days ago returned, believing the storm had blown over. Forty or 50 men, masked and robed in white, last night visited the houses of William Barrett, Thomas Smith and Lee Barrett, where the Elders had been staying, but warning had been given and the Elders left the County yesterday.

He "Blew Out" the Gas.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 4.—Joseph Devine, a young printer from Albany, had a narrow escape from being suffocated last night by gas in his room at 307 West One Hundred and Twenty-Fifth-street. He retired late and this morning was found unconscious. It took several hours to bring him around. It is surmised Devine blew out the gas or turned the burner on a second time.

Again Placed in a Cell.

By Cable to The Freeman.

DUBLIN, Oct. 4.—The sentence of Charles Conybeare, Member of the House of Commons for Camborne Division of Cornwall, who has been imprisoned three months at Londonderry for conspiring to oppose the law, expired to-day. While he was undergoing the formalities prior to his discharge he infringed one of the prison rules and was again placed in a cell. At 3:30 P. M. Mr. Conybeare was discharged from custody.

ELECTION CONTEST IS PROBABLE.

Tickets Used in Prohibition Contest were Not Lawfully Printed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ABERDEEN, S. D., Oct. 4.—A report is current here that the election will be contested, so far as the Prohibition question is concerned, upon the ground that a large part of the tickets used were not printed upon white paper in black ink, as required by statute. Most of the tickets used in Brown County were printed upon cream paper in blue ink.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 4.—The Journal's Helena special says the situation this morning shows that Toole [Democrat] is probably elected Governor. The rest of the State officers are all Republicans, the Senate also, but the House is still questionable. The Republicans claim the Legislature on joint ballot by three or four majority.

OTHER POLITICAL MATTERS.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 4.—The Republican Convention of the Eighth Judicial District took a recess at 3 o'clock this afternoon until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. Fifty ballots have been taken without material change in the situation. The last ballot was: Barker, 11; Potter, 9; Spring, 6; Lambert, 4. The dead-lock seems likely to continue for some time.

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 4.—The Senatorial Convention took 10 ballots without change this morning, and adjourned to Wednesday next at Auburn.

OFFICIAL TEST OF THE BALTIMORE.

The Vessel Made a Good Showing and May be Given Another Trial.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The official report of the Trial Board on the cruiser Baltimore relative to its recent trial run, was received at the Navy Department this morning. The Board states that the average horse-power developed by the engines was 8,977.88, the requirement being 9,000, thus making a deficiency of 22.12 powers, which would incur a penalty of $2,212. The screw made an average of 117.9 revolutions a minute, which, allowing 16 per cent. slip, would give it an average speed of 19.6 knots an hour. The report states that during the run two of the indicators, which had been thoroughly tested before the trial, broke, and caused it necessary to substitute two others, which had not been tested. On the record of these indicators depended the record of the development of horse-power. Secretary Tracy, after reading the report, decided to waive the question of acceptance of the vessel until he could hear from the Cramps, the contractors, as to whether or not they were willing to let the last trial stand as the final one, or preferred to have another trial run with the indicators thoroughly tested.

Financial Doings on Wall-Street To-Day—The Closing Quotations.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 4.—The stock market opened this morning with a renewal of the pressure upon cotton oil, sugar and Atchison, but good support was met on all, which caused great activity in these stocks, while the general list was comparatively neglected, being dull within a narrow range. Under the pressure brought to bear first prices were ⅛ and ¼ per cent. lower, and sugar was off ⅞. The trusts yielded immediately, and cotton oil was specially weak, dropping to 42⅞ in the first few minutes, against 45½ last evening, and after a rally to 43⅞ retired to 41½. At 11 o'clock the market was fairly active and barely steady at small fractions better than first prices, while the trusts were again weak at the lowest prices.

The activity in the stock market continued unabated after 12 o'clock. Sugar took the lead and dropped to 83½. Chicago Gas dropped to 55 against 58 at the opening. Cotton oil declined 1½ more, and at its lowest point was off 5 from its last night's price, and lead was down 1⅝. The general list was remarkably well held, though a few specialties yielded, and Louisville & Nashville lost 1¼ and Manitoba 1. Fears of a money panic and the calling of loans in many cases forced holders to throw over their stocks. In consequence prices declined rapidly.

PANIC IN TRUSTS.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 4.—A panicky feeling prevails in trust stocks at the Stock Exchange to-day. The Post's financial article says: "While the actual amount of gold ordered for export up to noon to-day was in itself unimportant, the total being $1,500,000, the apprehensions created by its export under such circumstances as to have the appearance of some unusual necessity, gave stock speculation a pretty severe set back, and the decline of 1 to 2 per cent. yesterday was followed by some further fractional declines on all stocks this forenoon, so that at 12 o'clock almost every railroad stock on the list was ½ to ⅞ lower than last night. Atchison's sales amounted to 32,600 shares and it declined from 30¾ last night to 29½ before 12 o'clock. Missouri Pacific was 1 per cent. lower at 72½. After 12 o'clock railroad and trust stocks were lower, sugar being down to 85⅛.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION IN A MINE.

Four Men Killed, One Fatally Injured and 20 More or Less Hurt.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

HOUGHTON, Mich., Oct. 4.—Two men were killed, one was fatally injured and 20 were more or less hurt at the bottom of the Calumet & Hecla perpendicular shaft yesterday. The usual blasts of dynamite were fired on Wednesday evening, but one failed to explode. At noon one of the miners accidentally struck the charge with his pick. A deafening crash followed, the dynamite exploding and sending masses of shattered rock in deadly showers all around. Otto Flink and George Erickson were killed instantly, their bodies being frightfully torn and scarred by flying rocks. Nelson Boone, who stood a short distance off, was hurled against a rock and sustained serious injuries. Captain John Cameron had his right arm broken in two places by pieces of stone, both his legs being also cut in many places. The accident took place 1,000 feet under ground.

New Fast Mail Train.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—J. Lowrie Bell, the General Superintendent of the Railway Mail Service, has consummated an arrangement with the New-York Central and Lake Shore Railroad companies by which a new fast mail train from New-York to Chicago will be established next Sunday. The train will leave New-York City at 8:50 in the morning and reach Chicago at 9:50 o'clock the next morning. This train will reduce the time of the arrival of the morning mail in Chicago over four hours and will carry a full force of railway postal clerks who will take on mails along the entire route. It is proposed to make the separations on the postal cars so complete that the letters will be in readiness for delivery immediately after the train reaches Chicago.

He says Iowa people are abundently able to manage their own affairs and do not need the assistance or advice of the Government officials.

Mrs. Hamilton has heard of the divorce proceedings, but appears to be perfectly indifferent on the subject.

A Defective High License Law.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

LANSING, Mich., Oct. 4.—Owing to a mistake made by a bill clerk, Section 10 of the new High License Liquor Law is void. This section compelled druggists to secure permits and make annual statements of sales. This, it is considered, will not invalidate the entire law, but it removes all restrictions upon druggists.

NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE Democrats give up everything in Montana except the Governor. That duty is postponed till the receipt of further returns.

IF there had been seven places upon the Democratic ticket instead of six, Sheriff Flack of New York would probably have got one. He is almost as badly in need of a vindication as Wemple and Tabor.

IT is the 4th of October, and Sheriff Flack has not been removed from office, though he is under indictment and indebted for his liberty to friends who signed his bail bond. It looks as though he will pull through till the 15th. Then the Governor can appoint his successor for a full year.

GEN. KNAPP, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, opened campaign headquarters at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York, last night, and was immediately visited by Senator Hiscock and ex-Senator Platt. It is to be a business campaign, the business on hand being the organization of victory.

DR. ALLEN FITCH decides that Christian Deyhle, who shot Frederick Gesswein in New York a short time since because of some fancied infringments on his patents, is insane. It is therefore probable that the perpetrator of this most extraordinary and unaccountable murder will be permitted to end his days in an asylum.

GOV. HILL has started out early in the campaign with a speech the chief burden of which is a defense of Wemple and Tabor. These gentlemen are probably preparing to invade some portion of the state with defenses of Hill. Tweed, Connelly and Sweeney used to whitewash each other in the same sweet fashion.

AN ardent Democrat named Hayes, member of the Pilsner club of Troy, can give the liquor men "points" on raising a campaign fund. While in Syracuse on the day of the convention, he stole $60 from Sate Skinner, keeper of a disreputable house. He was arrested for the theft, but the woman was glad to let him go on receiving back $40 of the loot. The $20 goes to the cause of Democracy and Reform of course.

GOV. HILL is always welcome to Ulster county. He invariably tells the people here something that enlightens them. In 1885, when they knew very little of him, as he had been acting Governor for only a few months, they gave him a majority of 112. Last year he came several times, and the result was a majority of 213 for Warner Miller. Come oftener, Governor. We love you for the enemies you make every time.

HON. GEORGE B. SLOAN of Oswego has been renominated for State Senator by the Republicans of the twenty-first district. Mr. Sloan's public record is a long and honorable one. He served in the Assemblies of 1874, 1876, 1877 and 1879, and was Speaker in 1877. He was appointed Quarantine Commissioner in 1880, and Prison Labor Commissioner in 1884. He was elected State Senator in 1885, and again in 1887. His last majority was 4,754, over James A. Ward, Democrat.

GOV. HILL had better hurry back to Albany and call in his Lieutenant Tabor. The Albany Journal announces that the jury fixer is already at work upon the jury that is to convene on the 7th inst in the matter of the ceiling scandal. While the Governor and his pals are away attending to politics the jury will probably be fixed, as the Journal states that jurors have already been approached with "inducements" to stand out for a disagreement. The case needs immediate attention, or it will not even serve for "a good enough Morgan till after election."

RAY HAMILTON has just begun a divorce suit in the New York Supreme Court. The ground of complaint is the deception practiced by his wife Eva in the Baby Beatrice affair. This baby, Hamilton was informed by letters from his wife in Elmira, was born in that city in December. On January 6th, the baby was presented to him as his child, and he had no reason for denying the parentage. The complaint also states that he has information that his wife had another husband living at the time of the marriage, but is unable to produce evidence of her former marriage. But whether he is able to establish this part of his allegation or not, Mr. Hamilton's grounds for divorce appear to be uncommonly good.

IS ELLIOTT DANFORTH a "paper mash" statesman too ? Mr. Danforth recently undertook to explain some stories affecting his integrity. He said: "The only shadow of a pretense for the stories affecting me is that I suggested to State Treasurer Fitzgerald that he could help a few friends of mine by making a deposit in the Merchants' Bank of Albany. Mr. Fitzgerald thereupon made a transfer of $150,000 of the school fund from the Commercial Bank." That is all. He only wished to help a few speculating friends in distress by placing a portion of the school moneys within their reach. Now we are waiting to hear what Frank Rice has done to entitle him to a place on this ticket of lame ducks. Is he selected to be hung between two rows of thieves?

GEN. LESTER B. FAULKNER was yesterday convicted of the crimes of which he has been charged, and sentenced by Judge Coxe to seven years' imprisonment. The verdict and sentence were a terrible surprise to Faulkner and his Democratic friends, who found that their influence over the jury was of little account in a federal court. The counsel took steps for an appeal. The wrecking of the Dansville bank by the Faulkners involved stealings to the amount of about $400,000. Gen. Faulkner was an officer in the federal army and made a good war record. He afterwards became interested in politics to the detriment of his own business interests and those of his neighbors who trusted his integrity. He is an old man, and his sentence is virtually for life if he serves it out.

TIMOTHY J. SULLIVAN ARRESTED.

Came to Sheriff's Office This Morning and Gave Bail in $50,000.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ALBANY, Oct. 4.—Timothy J. Sullivan, John Snaith's sub-contractor on the Assembly ceiling and stair-case contract, was arrested this morning on an order granted by Judge Merwin at Utica on Friday last at the instance of Attorney General Tabor. Sullivan telegraphed Sheriff Rooney from Fort Edward last night that he would appear before him to-day, and true to his word, he came to the Sheriff's office this morning and was admitted to $50,000 bail; George I. Amsdell, one of Albany's leading brewers, and P. McArdle, a prominent iron merchant, going on the bond. Sullivan, in conjunction with Snaith and one other, is charged with fraud and conspiracy on the same grounds as published on Snaith's arrest, and further that most of the estimates upon which Snaith obtained the money from the State Treasury were made by Sullivan's bookkeeper, and also the changing of the joint bids of Sullivan and Snaith for their individual bids after the first meeting of the Ceiling Committee, June 18, 1888.

AN OLD KENTUCKY FEUD BREAKS OUT.

A Bride and Groom Killed while Standing at the Altar.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

JAMBOREE, Ky., Oct 4.—The old Hatfield-McCoy feud has broken out again in Pike County, and at least three more lives have been sacrificed. The latest shooting occurred at a marriage at the farm house of Peter McCoy. His daughter was to become the wife of John Hand, a relative of the Hatfield gang, and both factions had sworn to prevent the union. Hand had not been connected with the dispute of the factions and refused to recognize the leaders. Tuesday night the bridal party assembled in McCoy's house and just as Hand and Miss McCoy stood before the minister a volley was poured through a window which killed both of them and fatally wounded the clergyman. Reports say the farmers and mountaineers of the locality are hunting for the murderers, but no trace of them has been found.

MINISTERING CHILDREN'S LEAGUE.

Foundress of the Order Makes a Pleasant Speech at Chicago.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—The Earl and Countess of Meath joined in a children's service at St. James Church yesterday. At its conclusion the Earl said that the foundress of the Ministering Children's League, of which order it seems most of the children present were members, was present, and he would therefore give way to her. Lady Meath, a handsome and kindly-looking woman, bowed and then spoke pleasantly to the children for half an hour. She told how she had founded the Order in London four and a-half years ago, and said that now there were members in nearly every country on the globe. The only object of the Society was to induce each of its members to do at least one kind act every day.

An Old Woman Robbed in Chicago.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Mrs. Mary O'Brien, aged 60, was robbed yesterday of $3,000, that represented her savings for years. Mrs. O'Brien came from Waltham, Mass., Wednesday, on her way to her son's home at Elgin. She had sold her home, and in a long envelope, buttoned inside her dress, were the proceeds of the sale. Mrs. O'Brien went to a cheap hotel and was given a room. Yesterday the odor of gas was noticed coming from the room, the door was broken and the occupant was found lying on the floor unconscious. Assistance was given with such vigor that when Mrs. O'Brien returned to consciousness her money had disappeared. An employe of the house has been arrested.

Stock Suffering in Manitoba.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 4.—Reports from ranching districts along the international boundary indicate great scarcity of food and water, and stock is suffering. Owing to the unusually dry season the amount of hay put up was small, and immense stretches of prairie have lately been burned over. The outlook is so discouraging that some ranchers offer to give their cattle away, knowing that death from starvation is almost certain.

Receiver Asked for a Railroad.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 4.—A bill in equity was filed to-day by Neil & McDonald, of New-York, against the Shreveport & Houston Railroad Company, in which it is alleged by complainants, who own $78,000 worth of certificates, issued by the former Receiver of the road, that the company is insolvent and has defaulted in the interest of its bonds. The petitioners ask that a Receiver be appointed and the road sold.

Blaine's Speech well Received.

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 4.—Secretary Blaine's address at the opening of the International Congress of American Nations has been well received here. Comments heard on the streets place it as the strongest utterance of its class ever enunciated by an American.

DOINGS OF THE EPISCOPALIANS.

Third Day's Proceedings at the Convention Being Held in New-York.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 4.—Promptly at 9 o'clock this morning the House of Deputies of the Episcopal Convention opened the third day's proceedings with religious services conducted by the Rev. Dr. Coit, of New-Hampshire. At 10 o'clock the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix took his seat as presiding officer. The hour set for the continuation of the discussion of the proposed twelfth change to be made in the prayer books was arranged for 11 o'clock. Until that hour the time was taken up with reports of special committees and resolutions.

The Rev. Dr. Franklin submitted a report of the Committee on Marriage and Divorce, and asked that it be read. The House decided against this, and the report was presented without being read. Dr. Franklin then moved that the report be printed, and that its discussion be made the order of the day for Thursday next, or as soon as the present subjects that have precedence have been disposed of. The motion was carried.

Dr. Hoffman, of New-York, presented a report from the Committee on Canons of Ordination, and had it made the order of the day for Wednesday next.

Petitions and memorials were then received, and several favored and opposed proportionate representation in the General Convention. Memorials from the Maryland and Michigan delegations protesting against a change of the name of the Church were presented. The Secretary announced that the date for the reception to be given to the delegates by the Church Club had been changed to October 14.

The House of Deputies then transformed itself into a Missionary Council. Bishop Whipple, of Minnesota, took the President's chair and after calling for the singing of the two hundred and eighty-fourth hymn offered prayer. The Rev. Dr. Langford, Secretary of the Board of Missions, then presented the Triennial Report of the Board.

ACTION OF HELENA VIGILANTES.

Warning to "Hard Cases" Chalked on Street Corners and Printed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 4.—The figures "3-7-77," the warning of Vigilantes to "hard cases," were chalked on street corners and printed in the evening papers yesterday. This call for a return to the methods of early days was occasioned by the discovery of four fires in as many houses the night before in the heart of the business section. All the fires were put out before serious damage was done, and in each case it was found that rags had been saturated with oil and fired. The incendiaries are evidently the gang who have been in North-west towns during the summer and to whom the big fire in Butte last Sunday is attributed.

Prisoners Escaped From a Sheriff.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

JOLIET, Ills., October 4.—John H. Ward, Sheriff of Uinta County, Wyoming, arrived here last night with John L. Smith sentenced for four years for robbery. The Sheriff started from Evanston, Wyoming, September 29, with two prisoners, the other being an Omaha blacksmith, John Birdsall, also convicted of robbery. The prisoners were shackeled together. When the train approached Omaha after midnight, Monday, everybody in the car was asleep except the Sheriff, the Conductor and a brakeman. Some one on the platform pulled the bell cord and the train suddenly stopped. The conductor and brakeman rushed out to see what the trouble was. The Sheriff followed them to the car door in the opposite end from where his prisoner sat. As the train started again the prisoners made for the other door and before the Sheriff could reach them they jumped from the platform. Ward searched the country about Omaha for two days and had given the hunt up when be came face to face with Smith walking along the streets. The man still had on his shackels, but the chain which had bound him to the blacksmith was cut in two.

Millionaires Run Away With.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 4.—A horse ran away last evening with John W. Cary and Frederick Layton, both millionaires, of this City. Both gentlemen were thrown into a pile of gravel and rendered unconscious. They were badly bruised and their faces and hands were covered with blood. They were removed to their homes and will probably be around again in a few days.

At Racine Henry W. Shufeldt, the millionaire distiller of Chicago, while out driving, was run into by another team. Mr. Shufeldt was thrown out, striking on the stone curbing of the street. The exact nature of his injuries cannot be determined, but his physicans hope he will escape with a fracture of the hip and several bruises.

Meeting of President's Cabinet.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The regular meetings of the Cabinet were resumed this afternoon, all the members being present with the exception of Secretary Proctor. It is understood the vacancy in the Pension Office was one of the topics considered. Prior to the meeting of the Cabinet the President was closeted for a long time with Senator Hiscock, of New-York, ex-Represensative Weber, of New-York, and Representatives Burrows, of Michigan, and Sherman, of New-York, called.

Mormons Driven Away by "White Caps."

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 4.—The Mormon Elders have been driven out of Wilson County by the White Caps. The Elders disappeared some time ago when the agitation was hot against them, but a few days ago returned, believing the storm had blown over. Forty or 50 men, masked and robed in white, last night visited the houses of William Barrett, Thomas Smith and Lee Barrett, where the Elders had been staying, but warning had been given and the Elders left the County yesterday.

He "Blew Out" the Gas.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 4.—Joseph Devine, a young printer from Albany, had a narrow escape from being suffocated last night by gas in his room at 307 West One Hundred and Twenty-Fifth-street. He retired late and this morning was found unconscious. It took several hours to bring him around. It is surmised Devine blew out the gas or turned the burner on a second time.

ELECTION CONTEST IS PROBABLE.

Tickets Used in Prohibition Contest were Not Lawfully Printed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ABERDEEN, S. D., Oct. 4.—A report is current here that the election will be contested, so far as the Prohibition question is concerned, upon the ground that a large part of the tickets used were not printed upon white paper in black ink, as required by statute. Most of the tickets used in Brown County were printed upon cream paper in blue ink.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 4.—The Journal's Helena special says the situation this morning shows that Toole [Democrat] is probably elected Governor. The rest of the State officers are all Republicans, the Senate also, but the House is still questionable. The Republicans claim the Legislature on joint ballot by three or four majority.

OTHER POLITICAL MATTERS.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 4.—The Republican Convention of the Eighth Judicial District took a recess at 3 o'clock this afternoon until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. Fifty ballots have been taken without material change in the situation. The last ballot was: Barker, 11; Potter, 9; Spring, 6; Lambert, 4. The dead-lock seems likely to continue for some time.

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 4.—The Senatorial Convention took 10 ballots without change this morning, and adjourned to Wednesday next at Auburn.

OFFICIAL TEST OF THE BALTIMORE.

The Vessel Made a Good Showing and May be Given Another Trial.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The official report of the Trial Board on the cruiser Baltimore relative to its recent trial run, was received at the Navy Department this morning. The Board states that the average horse-power developed by the engines was 8,977.88, the requirement being 9,000, thus making a deficiency of 22.12 powers, which would incur a penalty of $2,212. The screw made an average of 117.9 revolutions a minute, which, allowing 16 per cent. slip, would give it an average speed of 19.6 knots an hour. The report states that during the run two of the indicators, which had been thoroughly tested before the trial, broke, and caused it necessary to substitute two others, which had not been tested. On the record of these indicators depended the record of the development of horse-power. Secretary Tracy, after reading the report, decided to waive the question of acceptance of the vessel until he could hear from the Cramps, the contractors, as to whether or not they were willing to let the last trial stand as the final one, or preferred to have another trial run with the indicators thoroughly tested.

THE STOCK AND MONEY MARKET.

Financial Doings on Wall-Street To-Day—The Closing Quotations.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 4.—The stock market opened this morning with a renewal of the pressure upon cotton oil, sugar and Atchison, but good support was met on all, which caused great activity in these stocks, while the general list was comparatively neglected, being dull within a narrow range. Under the pressure brought to bear first prices were ⅛ and ½ per cent. lower, and sugar was off ⅞. The trusts yielded immediately, and cotton oil was specially weak, dropping to 42⅞ in the first few minutes, against 45½ last evening, and after a rally to 43⅞ retired to 41½. At 11 o'clock the market was fairly active and barely steady at small fractions better than first prices, while the trusts were again weak at the lowest prices.

The activity in the stock market continued unabated after 12 o'clock. Sugar took the lead and dropped to 83½. Chicago Gas dropped to 55 against 58 at the opening. Cotton oil declined 1½ more, and at its lowest point was off 5 from its last night's price, and lead was down 1⅝. The general list was remarkably well held, though a few specialties yielded, and Louisville & Nashville lost 1⅛ and Manitoba 1. Fears of a money panic and the calling of loans in many cases forced holders to throw over their stocks. In consequence prices declined rapidly.

PANIC IN TRUSTS.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 4.—A panicky feeling prevails in trust stocks at the Stock Exchange to-day. The Post's financial article says: "While the actual amount of gold ordered for export up to noon to-day was in itself unimportant, the total being $1,500,000, the apprehensions created by its export under such circumstances as to have the appearance of some unusual necessity, gave stock speculation a pretty severe set back, and the decline of 1 to 2 per cent. yesterday was followed by some further fractional declines on all stocks this forenoon, so that at 12 o'clock almost every railroad stock on the list was ¼ to ⅝ lower than last night. Atchison's sales amounted to 32,600 shares and it declined from 30¾ last night to 29⅞ before 12 o'clock. Missouri Pacific was 1 per cent. lower at 72⅞. After 12 o'clock railroad and trust stocks were lower, sugar being down to 85½.

Nelson Boone, who stood a short distance off, was hurled against a rock and sustained serious injuries. Captain John Cameron had his right arm broken in two places by pieces of stone, both his legs being also cut in many places. The accident took place 1,000 feet under ground.

This train will reduce the time of the arrival of the morning mail in Chicago over four hours and will carry a full force of railway postal clerks who will take on mails along the entire route. It is proposed to make the separations on the postal cars so complete that the letters will be in readiness for delivery immediately after the train reaches Chicago.

GOV. HILL IN KINGSTON.

For some inscrutable reason Gov. Hill has found attractions in Kingston that draw him to this city more frequently than to any other spot in the state, with the possible exception of Ed. Stokes's Hoffman House. The Governor is not a political favorite here, and except for the almost superhuman efforts of the liquor dealers to drum up a crowd of their own sort, he would hardly get an audience worth speaking to. The Governor fell immensely in the esteem of the decent people of Kingston last fall when he suffered a procession of beer barrels to be drawn through the streets in his honor without a word of protest or rebuke. Something was then found to be lacking in the Governor's moral and social make up. He showed a lack of that sense of decency and of respect for the opinions of worthy people which is expected of persons holding high and important public trusts.

The Governor came to Kingston last night. His coming was heralded long in advance with all possible noise, and after he arrived a procession and brass band escorted him through the streets. This procession was composed, according to a very glowing account in the Sun, of about 200 of the 2,462 Democrats who voted for Hill in this city last fall. "By the vigorous beating of tom-toms," to use Mr. Hill's own language, we learn that 1,000 of the 25,000 who live in this city gathered to hear him speak. When the Governor came here one year ago he got an audience of four or five thousand. But the people have learned a good deal about David B. Hill since that time.

The Governor's speech was chiefly a labored defense of the Syracuse ticket. The Democratic party, he said, never deserted its men because of newspaper attacks. "Our opponents," he said, "hoped to frighten us into throwing overboard two state officers who, it is asserted, are connected with the 'ceiling scandal,' so called." The Governor has carefully enclosed the words "ceiling scandal" in quotation marks, and the line of defense which he followed in behalf of his friends Wemple and Tabor would show that there had never been any ceiling scandal at all, and that the thing so called was a Republican scare. "But the huge scheme of bluff did not succeed. The Democratic party could not be frightened." After this the Governor descended to the style of low blackguardism with which every speech that he delivers is marked. The Republican ticket was made up of obscure men, he asserted, and "for a Republican ticket that characteristic may be a necessary feature. The public knows the party's prominent men pretty well by this time, and I am not surprised that the leaders wish to keep them pretty well in the back-ground." Is there another Democratic orator in the state who can descend to such billingsgate at this? Our leaders include such men as Morton, Depew, Platt, Miller, Evarts, Hiscock, Cornell, Bliss, Seward, Reid, Robertson, Erhardt and Van-Cott. It is not in good grace for David B. Hill to attempt to pass judgment upon such men.

The rest of the Governor's speech was devoted to "chestnuts" which he evolved in the platform that he sent the other day to the Syracuse convention. After his defense of two public scoundrels and his emission of a flood of billingsgate against every prominent Republican, he had not a single new idea to offer. After saying that his party repudiates free trade, he praised the national platform of 1888, said defeat had not daunted the party, and that it had not abandoned the principles for which it contended last fall. It would be the height of charity to admit that the Governor has not the intelligence to understand that this platform which he praises, that the principle contained in the Mills bill which he has not abandoned, is free trade. To say that the Governor presumed upon the ignorance of his audience in making these assertions would be less kind to him than to charge them to his own ignorance. The Governor has made so many blunders in stating simple facts relating to the history of the state that it may be safely assumed that he knows nothing about the tariff.

The Governor attacked the Republican platform, saying that it "has evaded the great question of Prohibition." This is an error of the Governor's. The platform makes no such evasion. If he will study it more carefully he will find the position of the Republican party on the Prohibition question re-affirmed. Cannot our Governor understand plain English?

The Governor charged the late Republican Legislature with extravagance in appropriation. But he did not point out a single extravagant item, though he has been continually adjured to do so ever since the adjournment. He carefully avoided all mention of his two late hobbies, an enumeration for the purpose of apportionment, and a constitutional convention. These questions are at last withdrawn as Democratic issues. The Governor has not recently enjoyed the review of his veto record that the discussion of these questions calls out. Less than a year hence he will be equally sick of the present year's veto record, including the Vedder liquor tax-bill and the excise committee's high license bill. These cost the taxpayers $5,000,000, and he will receive a new impression of the political value of the performance when he gets out among the farmers.

LABOR AND DYNAMITE.

The dynamite fiend has again been at work in New York, and again "the holy cause of labor" gets a black eye. The attempt was made upon the wholesale butcher shop of J. & P. Scanlon in West Fortieth street early yesterday morning, and was beyond doubt the work of "organized" labor. Last February the Scanlans had in their employ a worthless fellow named McLaughlin, who had once been under arrest for another dynamite outrage. This fellow had impudently thrown two live sheep down the chute used for dead carcasses, and when reprimanded became insolent and received his discharge. McLaughlin was a Union man, and all the Union men in the shop struck immediately. Their places were filled with non-Union men, and the firm refused to take back any of the old hands. Then every system of annoyance employed in these labor difficulties was resorted to, including a long boycott and the assailing of the new men with threats and violence. The new foreman, a man named Maloney, was so persistently hunted that he armed himself with a pistol. The explosion yesterday was intended for his destruction, but fortunately he went back to his breakfast after opening the shop and the mischief was done in his absence. Nobody was hurt, but the office of the firm was wrecked, a big hole was blown in the floor, the desks and chairs were splintered into kindling wood, the office partition was wrecked and sprung, the ceiling boards were hanging down, the windows were blown out, and windows on the other side of the street, 75 feet distant, were broken. The explosion occurred within a block of the Stevenson brewery, the front wall of which was blown out by dynamite in a labor quarrel two years ago.

Honest labor suffers undeservedly from such crimes. And organized labor should either disband, or cast out the bad men who are capable of them. That an organization should attempt to uphold even the act of McLaughlin for which he was discharged, is discreditable, for no employing firm or individual wants such a man about. There are too many people seeking employment who regard it as to their interest to do injury rather than benefit to those who employ and pay them. Is there, for instance, a lady in this city who has not heard some servant girl boast how she had "come it over" some former mistress?

ANOTHER DEMOCRATIC "LAME DUCK."

Is it impossible for the Democratic party to nominate a man of integrity? James Campbell, the party's candidate for Governor of Ohio, has been held up as an immaculately honest man, whose tergiversations were only those of politics and therefore venial. But yesterday, after Murat Halstead had read one of Campbell's speeches in which he was traduced, he addressed an open letter to Campbell, in which he reminded him of a certain ballot-box contract bill that he (Campbell) had introduced in the House of Representatives, and then reminded him that he (Halstead) had proof "that you had secured a money interest in that ballot-box contract before you introduced that bill, namely, that you 'subscribed' to secure an interest July 3, 1888." All that Campbell could say in reply to this very serious charge when interviewed upon it, was that "Halstead is a liar, and a double liar." He admitted that there might have been a contract of the sort, but he never saw it. He promises to withdraw from the race if Halstead proves that he had anything to do with the contract. He evidently possesses a more sensitive soul than Elliott Danforth, Democratic candidate for Treasurer of New York. Mr. Danforth openly admitted that he had induced the State Treasurer to transfer $150,000 of the school moneys from a bank where it could not be reached to another where it could be made useful to some friends in distress, but appeared to think that it was "such a little one" that no fuss ought to be made about it. We do not remember that Gov. Hill ever called anybody a liar when the story of the payment of his personal notes by certain favored contractors was told. The rhinoceros hide that serves our New York Democrats so well has not yet become the fashion in Ohio, and if Halstead proves his accusation, as he is pretty sure to do, "Jim" Campbell will only be too glad to withdraw.

PUBLIC OPINION.

The nomination of Charles F. Tabor to be Attorney-General is not a blunder; it is a crime. By such a course the Governor defies public opinion, and will find that he cannot do that with impunity.—New York Herald.

Gov. Hill's picture is being hung up in saloons and bar rooms throughout New England in order to familarize his friends with the physiognomy of the next Democratic Presiedential candidate. He is "Whisky's Governor" now and he hopes to be Whisky's President.—Springfield Union.

The renominations of Wemple and Tabor are insults to the honest voters and tax-payers of the state, who have a good chance now to rebuke flagrant corruption in state jobbery at Albany. They know where and how to punish guilt, and have the punishment in their own hands.—Binghamton Republican.

Gov. Hill used Tabor to protect the criminals who perpetrated the Capitol ceiling fraud, by which the people of the state were deliberately robbed of $100,000. Mr. Tabor is a fairly good lawyer, but his record since he has been Attorney-General ought to disqualify him from holding any public office. In a lesser degree the same remark applies to Edward Wemple, the candidate for Comptroller.—Brooklyn Standard-Union.

Naturally, one asks why Governor Hill was so exceedingly anxious to put the "paper mash" ticket through. * * Some will account for it in one way and some in another. Some, remembering the scandals in connection with the executive mansion and other unsavory reminiscences of Hill's career, will not be charitable in their interpretation of his extraordinary efforts to "vindicate" the most prominent officials in the capitol ceiling scandals.—Saratogian.

The names of Wemple and Tabor are tainted names. The one permitted unauthorized payments on the ceiling contract, and the other refused to prosecute the chief offender in that notorious business, until, upon the day before the meeting of the convention, he caused the arrest of the contractor, solely to advance his own political aspirations. The dodge was so transparent as to inspire the two strongest bodies of men—Tammany Hall and the County Democracy—to oppose his nomination.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Saturated with rum and smeared with scandal the Democratic party asks the people to continue it in power. Was ever a more impudent demand made by a corrupt political party? The ticket is an affront to honesty, to decency, to public sense. In no way could the Democracy of this state have invited Republican victory better than by nominating the men they chose at Syracuse to carry their banner next month. The contrast between the Republican repudiation of the ceiling scandal and the Democratic espousal of it is almost startling. It is much like political hari-kari. Yet under the lash of Hill the leaders fell into line weeks ago and the course then deliberately decided upon has been stubbornly adhered to.—Buffalo Express.

Comptroller Wemple and Attorney General Tabor have made such unsavory records for themselves in their official relations to the Assembly ceiling scandal that, notwithstanding the party usage of renominating state officers, one-third of the delegates in the State Convention were uncompromisingly hostile to them. On the floor of the convention bold words were uttered of warning against these improper and unpopular selections, and these declarations were backed up by the votes from the strongest Democratic localities in the state. But it was apparent that Gov. Hill's personal plan included their nominations, which were forced upon an unwilling convention. The taints upon the official records of Wemple and Tabor are clearly revealed in the free light of publicity, and will be an issue in this canvass.—Syracuse Journal.

Governor Hill has opened the Democratic campaign in person, speaking last night at a serenade given in his honor by a Democratic club of Kingston. His speech was in the main a rehash of his vetoes of the liquor bills passed by the last Legislature and of the Saxton Ballot Reform bill, together with an attempt to prove the Republicans alone responsible for the ceiling scandal, and to show that Controller Wemple and Attorney-General Tabor are white-winged angels. We are prepared to hear Mr. Hill repeat these things in different words every time he speaks during the campaign. They are his stock in trade. As this is in a peculiar sense his campaign, he will doubtless feel inclined to carry the burden of it himself. A series of speeches like that at Kingston will be monotonous, but they will make many Republican votes.—New York Tribune.

Comptroller Wemple and Attorney-General Tabor, who are inextricably encompassed with the Assembly ceiling scandal, were renominated. This was the will of the Governor, but more than all else the wish of the liquor interests of the state. Against them the protest was as a ripple compared with a tidal wave. The failure of the convention to discard these two candidates is the peerless political blunder of the Democratic campaign anywhere. The party is thereby placed wholly upon the defensive. The people see in contrast an irreproachable Republican state ticket, and the Republicans who were connected with the Assembly ceiling scandal relegated to private life. On the other hand, Democrats soiled by the papier-mache swindle, are approved and honored in the most emphatic and public manner by their party.—Troy Times.

The two exceptions are Comptroller Wemple and Attorney General Tabor, whose renomination Governor Hill, for reasons best known to himself, has forced upon a reluctant party and a hostile public. These officials are connected with the ceiling frauds in a way that makes their renomination a challenge to all decent voters in the state. Whether they are guilty or not of stealing or of sharing in the plunder of the vulgar thieves who concocted the job, they certainly failed to use due vigilance and energy in preventing the swindling operations and in bringing the rascals to justice afterwards. They cannot shirk responsibility for this criminal negligence; nor can the Democratic party, which has actually approved their official course, succeed in obscuring and befogging the real issue before the people, which is, "Shall state officials who wink at public plunder be rewarded at the next election by re-election?" —Buffalo Commercial Advertiser.

The best medical writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating easy of application, and one that will reach all the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh during the past obliges us to admit that only one remedy has met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. The more distressing symptoms yield to it.

GOV. HILL IN KINGSTON.

For some inscrutable reason Gov. Hill has found attractions in Kingston that draw him to this city more frequently than to any other spot in the state, with the possible exception of Ed. Stokes's Hoffman House. The Governor is not a political favorite here, and except for the almost superhuman efforts of the liquor dealers to drum up a crowd of their own sort, he would hardly get an audience worth speaking to. The Governor fell immensely in the esteem of the decent people of Kingston last fall when he suffered a procession of beer barrels to be drawn through the streets in his honor without a word of protest or rebuke. Something was then found to be lacking in the Governor's moral and social make up. He showed a lack of that sense of decency and of respect for the opinions of worthy people which is expected of persons holding high and important public trusts.

The Governor came to Kingston last night. His coming was heralded long in advance with all possible noise, and after he arrived a procession and brass band escorted him through the streets. This procession was composed, according to a very glowing account in the Sun, of about 200 of the 2,462 Democrats who voted for Hill in this city last fall. "By the vigorous beating of tom-toms," to use Mr. Hill's own language, we learn that 1,000 of the 25,000 who live in this city gathered to hear him speak. When the Governor came here one year ago he got an audience of four or five thousand. But the people have learned a good deal about David B. Hill since that time.

The Governor's speech was chiefly a labored defense of the Syracuse ticket. The Democratic party, he said, never deserted its men because of newspaper attacks. "Our opponents," he said, "hoped to frighten us into throwing overboard two state officers who, it is asserted, are connected with the 'ceiling scandal,' so called." The Governor has carefully enclosed the words "ceiling scandal" in quotation marks, and the line of defense which he followed in behalf of his friends Wemple and Tabor would show that there had never been any ceiling scandal at all, and that the thing so called was a Republican scare. "But the huge scheme of bluff did not succeed. The Democratic party could not be frightened." After this the Governor descended to the style of low blackguardism with which every speech that he delivers is marked. The Republican ticket was made up of obscure men, he asserted, and "for a Republican ticket that characteristic may be a necessary feature. The public knows the party's prominent men pretty well by this time, and I am not surprised that the leaders wish to keep them pretty well in the back-ground." Is there another Democratic orator in the state who can descend to such billingsgate at this? Our leaders include such men as Morton, Depew, Platt, Miller, Evarts, Hiscock, Cornell, Bliss, Seward, Reid, Robertson, Erhardt and Van-Cott. It is not in good grace for David B. Hill to attempt to pass judgment upon such men.

The rest of the Governor's speech was devoted to "chestnuts" which he evolved in the platform that he sent the other day to the Syracuse convention. After his defense of two public scoundrels and his emission of a flood of billingsgate against every prominent Republican, he had not a single new idea to offer. After saying that his party repudiates free trade, he praised the national platform of 1888, said defeat had not daunted the party, and that it had not abandoned the principles for which it contended last fall. It would be the height of charity to admit that the Governor has not the intelligence to understand that this platform which he praises, that the principle contained in the Mills bill which he has not abandoned, is free trade. To say that the Governor presumed upon the ignorance of his audience in making these assertions would be less kind to him than to charge them to his own ignorance. The Governor has made so many blunders in stating simple facts relating to the history of the state that it may be safely assumed that he knows nothing about the tariff.

The Governor attacked the Republican platform, saying that it "has evaded the great question of Prohibition." This is an error of the Governor's. The platform makes no such evasion. If he will study it more carefully he will find the position of the Republican party on the Prohibition question re-affirmed. Cannot our Governor understand plain English?

The Governor charged the late Republican Legislature with extravagance in appropriation. But he did not point out a single extravagant item, though he has been continually adjured to do so ever since the adjournment. He carefully avoided all mention of his two late hobbies, an enumeration for the purpose of apportionment, and a constitutional convention. These questions are at last withdrawn as Democratic issues. The Governor has not recently enjoyed the review of his veto record that the discussion of these questions calls out. Less than a year hence he will be equally sick of the present year's veto record, including the Vedder liquor tax-bill and the excise committee's high license bill. These cost the taxpayers $5,000,000, and he will receive a new impression of the political value of the performance when he gets out among the farmers.

LABOR AND DYNAMITE.

The dynamite fiend has again been at work in New York, and again "the holy cause of labor" gets a black eye. The attempt was made upon the wholesale butcher shop of J. & P. Scanlon in West Fortieth street early yesterday morning, and was beyond doubt the work of "organized" labor. Last February the Scanlans had in their employ a worthless fellow named McLaughlin, who had once been under arrest for another dynamite outrage. This fellow had impudently thrown two live sheep down the chute used for dead carcasses, and when reprimanded became insolent and received his discharge. McLaughlin was a Union man, and all the Union men in the shop struck immediately. Their places were filled with non-Union men, and the firm refused to take back any of the old hands. Then every system of annoyance employed in these labor difficulties was resorted to, including a long boycott and the assailing of the new men with threats and violence. The new foreman, a man named Maloney, was so persistently hunted that he armed himself with a pistol. The explosion yesterday was intended for his destruction, but fortunately he went back to his breakfast after opening the shop and the mischief was done in his absence. Nobody was hurt, but the office of the firm was wrecked, a big hole was blown in the floor, the desks and chairs were splintered into kindling wood, the office partition was wrecked and sprung, the ceiling boards were hanging down, the windows were blown out, and windows on the other side of the street, 75 feet distant, were broken. The explosion occurred within a block of the Stevenson brewery, the front wall of which was blown out by dynamite in a labor quarrel two years ago.

Honest labor suffers undeservedly from such crimes. And organized labor should either disband, or cast out the bad men who are capable of them. That an organization should attempt to uphold even the act of McLaughlin for which he was discharged, is discreditable, for no employing firm or individual wants such a man about. There are too many people seeking employment who regard it as to their interest to do injury rather than benefit to those who employ and pay them. Is there, for instance, a lady in this city who has not heard some servant girl boast how she had "come it over" some former mistress?

ANOTHER DEMOCRATIC "LAME DUCK."

Is it impossible for the Democratic party to nominate a man of integrity? James Campbell, the party's candidate for Governor of Ohio, has been held up as an immaculately honest man, whose tergiversations were only those of politics and therefore venial. But yesterday, after Murat Halstead had read one of Campbell's speeches in which he was traduced, he addressed an open letter to Campbell, in which he reminded him of a certain ballot-box contract bill that he (Campbell) had introduced in the House of Representatives, and then reminded him that he (Halstead) had proof "that you had secured a money interest in that ballot-box contract before you introduced that bill, namely, that you 'subscribed' to secure an interest July 3, 1888." All that Campbell could say in reply to this very serious charge when interviewed upon it, was that "Halstead is a liar, and a double liar." He admitted that there might have been a contract of the sort, but he never saw it. He promises to withdraw from the race if Halstead proves that he had anything to do with the contract. He evidently possesses a more sensitive soul than Elliott Danforth, Democratic candidate for Treasurer of New York. Mr. Danforth openly admitted that he had induced the State Treasurer to transfer $150,000 of the school moneys from a bank where it could not be reached to another where it could be made useful to some friends in distress, but appeared to think that it was "such a little one" that no fuss ought to be made about it. We do not remember that Gov. Hill ever called anybody a liar when the story of the payment of his personal notes by certain favored contractors was told. The rhinoceros hide that serves our New York Democrats so well has not yet become the fashion in Ohio, and if Halstead proves his accusation, as he is pretty sure to do, "Jim" Campbell will only be too glad to withdraw.

PUBLIC OPINION.

The nomination of Charles F. Tabor to be Attorney-General is not a blunder; it is a crime. By such a course the Governor defies public opinion, and will find that he cannot do that with impunity.—New York Herald.

Gov. Hill's picture is being hung up in saloons and bar rooms throughout New England in order to familarize his friends with the physiognomy of the next Democratic Presidential candidate. He is "Whisky's Governor" now and he hopes to be Whisky's President.—Springfield Union.

The renominations of Wemple and Tabor are insults to the honest voters and tax-payers of the state, who have a good chance now to rebuke flagrant corruption in state jobbery at Albany. They know where and how to punish guilt, and have the punishment in their own hands.—Binghamton Republican.

Gov. Hill used Tabor to protect the criminals who perpetrated the Capitol ceiling fraud, by which the people of the state were deliberately robbed of $100,000. Mr. Tabor is a fairly good lawyer, but his record since he has been Attorney-General ought to disqualify him from holding any public office. In a lesser degree the same remark applies to Edward Wemple, the candidate for Comptroller.—Brooklyn Standard-Union.

Naturally, one asks why Governor Hill was so exceedingly anxious to put the "paper mash" ticket through. * * Some will account for it in one way and some in another. Some, remembering the scandals in connection with the executive mansion and other unsavory reminiscences of Hill's career, will not be charitable in their interpretation of his extraordinary efforts to "vindicate" the most prominent officials in the capitol ceiling scandals.—Saratogian.

The names of Wemple and Tabor are tainted names. The one permitted unauthorized payments on the ceiling contract, and the other refused to prosecute the chief offender in that notorious business, until, upon the day before the meeting of the convention, he caused the arrest of the contractor, solely to advance his own political aspirations. The dodge was so transparent as to inspire the two strongest bodies of men—Tammany Hall and the County Democracy—to oppose his nomination.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Saturated with rum and smeared with scandal the Democratic party asks the people to continue it in power. Was ever a more impudent demand made by a corrupt political party? The ticket is an affront to honesty, to decency, to public sense. In no way could the Democracy of this state have invited Republican victory better than by nominating the men they chose at Syracuse to carry their banner next month. The contrast between the Republican repudiation of the ceiling scandal and the Democratic espousal of it is almost startling. It is much like political hari-kari. Yet under the lash of Hill the leaders fell into line weeks ago and the course then deliberately decided upon has been stubbornly adhered to.—Buffalo Express.

Comptroller Wemple and Attorney General Tabor have made such unsavory records for themselves in their official relations to the Assembly ceiling scandal that, notwithstanding the party usage of renominating state officers, one-third of the delegates in the State Convention were uncompromisingly hostile to them. On the floor of the convention bold words were uttered of warning against these improper and unpopular selections, and these declarations were backed up by the votes from the strongest Democratic localities in the state. But it was apparent that Gov. Hill's personal plan included their nominations, which were forced upon an unwilling convention. The taints upon the official records of Wemple and Tabor are clearly revealed in the free light of publicity, and will be an issue in this canvass.—Syracuse Journal.

Governor Hill has opened the Democratic campaign in person, speaking last night at a serenade given in his honor by a Democratic club of Kingston. His speech was in the main a rehash of his vetoes of the liquor bills passed by the last Legislature and of the Saxton Ballot Reform bill, together with an attempt to prove the Republicans alone responsible for the ceiling scandal, and to show that Controller Wemple and Attorney-General Tabor are white-winged angels. We are prepared to hear Mr. Hill repeat these things in different words every time he speaks during the campaign. They are his stock in trade. As this is in a peculiar sense his campaign, he will doubtless feel inclined to carry the burden of it himself. A series of speeches like that at Kingston will be monotonous, but they will make many Republican votes.—New York Tribune.

Comptroller Wemple and Attorney-General Tabor, who are inextricably encompassed with the Assembly ceiling scandal, were renominated. This was the will of the Governor, but more than all else the wish of the liquor interests of the state. Against them the protest was as a ripple compared with a tidal wave. The failure of the convention to discard these two candidates is the peerless political blunder of the Democratic campaign anywhere. The party is thereby placed wholly upon the defensive. The people see in contrast an irreproachable Republican state ticket, and the Republicans who were connected with the Assembly ceiling scandal relegated to private life. On the other hand, Democrats soiled by the papier-mache swindle, are approved and honored in the most emphatic and public manner by their party.—Troy Times.

The two exceptions are Comptroller Wemple and Attorney General Tabor, whose renomination Governor Hill, for reasons best known to himself, has forced upon a reluctant party and a hostile public. These officials are connected with the ceiling frauds in a way that makes their renomination a challenge to all decent voters in the state. Whether they are guilty or not of stealing or of sharing in the plunder of the vulgar thieves who concocted the job, they certainly failed to use due vigilance and energy in preventing the swindling operations and in bringing the rascals to justice afterwards. They cannot shirk responsibility for this criminal negligence; nor can the Democratic party, which has actually approved their official course, succeed in obscuring and befogging the real issue before the people, which is, "Shall state officials who wink at public plunder be rewarded at the next election by re-election?" —Buffalo Commercial Advertiser.

A SCRAP OF PAPER SAVES HER LIFE.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than 70 pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. IT IS FOOLISH

To send for the doctor every time you don't feel just right. My doctor's bill for years was over a hundred dollars a year, which made a pretty big hole in my wages. For the past two years I only spent ten dollars, with which I bought a dozen bottles of Sulphur Bitters, and health has been in my family since using them.—Robert Johnson, Machinist.

The best medical writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating easy of application, and one that will reach all the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh during the past obliges us to admit that only one remedy has met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. The more distressing symptoms yield to it.

GOV. HILL IN KINGSTON.

For some inscrutable reason Gov. Hill has found attractions in Kingston that draw him to this city more frequently than to any other spot in the state, with the possible exception of Ed. Stokes's Hoffman House. The Governor is not a political favorite here, and except for the almost superhuman efforts of the liquor dealers to drum up a crowd of their own sort, he would hardly get an audience worth speaking to. The Governor fell immensely in the esteem of the decent people of Kingston last fall when he suffered a procession of beer barrels to be drawn through the streets in his honor without a word of protest or rebuke. Something was then found to be lacking in the Governor's moral and social make up. He showed a lack of that sense of decency and of respect for the opinions of worthy people which is expected of persons holding high and important public trusts.

The Governor came to Kingston last night. His coming was heralded long in advance with all possible noise, and after he arrived a procession and brass band escorted him through the streets. This procession was composed, according to a very glowing account in the Sun, of about 200 of the 2,462 Democrats who voted for Hill in this city last fall. "By the vigorous beating of tom-toms," to use Mr. Hill's own language, we learn that 1,000 of the 25,000 who live in this city gathered to hear him speak. When the Governor came here one year ago he got an audience of four or five thousand. But the people have learned a good deal about David B. Hill since that time.

The Governor's speech was chiefly a labored defense of the Syracuse ticket. The Democratic party, he said, never deserted its men because of newspaper attacks. "Our opponents," he said, "hoped to frighten us into throwing overboard two state officers who, it is asserted, are connected with the 'ceiling scandal,' so called." The Governor has carefully enclosed the words "ceiling scandal" in quotation marks, and the line of defense which he followed in behalf of his friends Wemple and Tabor would show that there had never been any ceiling scandal at all, and that the thing so called was a Republican scare. "But the huge scheme of bluff did not succeed. The Democratic party could not be frightened." After this the Governor descended to the style of low blackguardism with which every speech that he delivers is marked. The Republican ticket was made up of obscure men, he asserted, and "for a Republican ticket that characteristic may be a necessary feature. The public knows the party's prominent men pretty well by this time, and I am not surprised that the leaders wish to keep them pretty well in the back-ground." Is there another Democratic orator in the state who can descend to such billingsgate at this? Our leaders include such men as Morton, Depew, Platt, Miller, Evarts, Hiscock, Cornell, Bliss, Seward, Reid, Robertson, Erhardt and Van-Cott. It is not in good grace for David B. Hill to attempt to pass judgment upon such men.

The rest of the Governor's speech was devoted to "chestnuts" which he evolved in the platform that he sent the other day to the Syracuse convention. After his defense of two public scoundrels and his emission of a flood of billingsgate against every prominent Republican, he had not a single new idea to offer. After saying that his party repudiates free trade, he praised the national platform of 1888, said defeat had not daunted the party, and that it had not abandoned the principles for which it contended last fall. It would be the height of charity to admit that the Governor has not the intelligence to understand that this platform which he praises, that the principle contained in the Mills bill which he has not abandoned, is free trade. To say that the Governor presumed upon the ignorance of his audience in making these assertions would be less kind to him than to charge them to his own ignorance. The Governor has made so many blunders in stating simple facts relating to the history of the state that it may be safely assumed that he knows nothing about the tariff.

The Governor attacked the Republican platform, saying that it "has evaded the great question of Prohibition." This is an error of the Governor's. The platform makes no such evasion. If he will study it more carefully he will find the position of the Republican party on the Prohibition question re-affirmed. Cannot our Governor understand plain English?

The Governor charged the late Republican Legislature with extravagance in appropriation. But he did not point out a single extravagant item, though he has been continually adjured to do so ever since the adjournment. He carefully avoided all mention of his two late hobbies, an enumeration for the purpose of apportionment, and a constitutional convention. These questions are at last withdrawn as Democratic issues. The Governor has not recently enjoyed the review of his veto record that the discussion of these questions calls out. Less than a year hence he will be equally sick of the present year's veto record, including the Vedder liquor tax-bill and the excise committee's high license bill. These cost the taxpayers $5,000,000, and he will receive a new impression of the political value of the performance when he gets out among the farmers.

LABOR AND DYNAMITE.

The dynamite fiend has again been at work in New York, and again "the holy cause of labor" gets a black eye. The attempt was made upon the wholesale butcher shop of J. & P. Scanlon in West Fortieth street early yesterday morning, and was beyond doubt the work of "organized" labor. Last February the Scanlans had in their employ a worthless fellow named McLaughlin, who had once been under arrest for another dynamite outrage. This fellow had impudently thrown two live sheep down the chute used for dead carcasses, and when reprimanded became insolent and received his discharge. McLaughlin was a Union man, and all the Union men in the shop struck immediately. Their places were filled with non-Union men, and the firm refused to take back any of the old hands. Then every system of annoyance employed in these labor difficulties was resorted to, including a long boycott and the assailing of the new men with threats and violence. The new foreman, a man named Maloney, was so persistently hunted that he armed himself with a pistol. The explosion yesterday was intended for his destruction, but fortunately he went back to his breakfast after opening the shop, and the mischief was done in his absence. Nobody was hurt, but the office of the firm was wrecked, a big hole was blown in the floor, the desks and chairs were splintered into kindling wood, the office partition was wrecked and sprung, the ceiling boards were hanging down, the windows were blown out, and windows on the other side of the street, 75 feet distant, were broken. The explosion occurred within a block of the Stevenson brewery, the front wall of which was blown out by dynamite in a labor quarrel two years ago.

Honest labor suffers undeservedly from such crimes. And organized labor should either disband, or cast out the bad men who are capable of them. That an organization should attempt to uphold even the act of McLaughlin for which he was discharged, is discreditable, for no employing firm or individual wants such a man about. There are too many people seeking employment who regard it as to their interest to do injury rather than benefit to those who employ and pay them. Is there, for instance, a lady in this city who has not heard some servant girl boast how she had "come it over" some former mistress?

ANOTHER DEMOCRATIC "LAME DUCK."

Is it impossible for the Democratic party to nominate a man of integrity? James Campbell, the party's candidate for Governor of Ohio, has been held up as an immaculately honest man, whose tergiversations were only those of politics and therefore venial. But yesterday, after Murat Halstead had read one of Campbell's speeches in which he was traduced, he addressed an open letter to Campbell, in which he reminded him of a certain ballot-box contract bill that he (Campbell) had introduced in the House of Representatives, and then reminded him that he (Halstead) had proof "that you had secured a money interest in that ballot-box contract before you introduced that bill, namely, that you 'subscribed' to secure an interest July 3, 1888." All that Campbell could say in reply to this very serious charge when interviewed upon it, was that "Halstead is a liar, and a double liar." He admitted that there might have been a contract of the sort, but he never saw it. He promises to withdraw from the race if Halstead proves that he had anything to do with the contract. He evidently possesses a more sensitive soul than Elliott Danforth, Democratic candidate for Treasurer of New York. Mr. Danforth openly admitted that he had induced the State Treasurer to transfer $150,000 of the school moneys from a bank where it could not be reached to another where it could be made useful to some friends in distress, but appeared to think that it was "such a little one" that no fuss ought to be made about it. We do not remember that Gov. Hill ever called anybody a liar when the story of the payment of his personal notes by certain favored contractors was told. The rhinoceros hide that serves our New York Democrats so well has not yet become the fashion in Ohio, and if Halstead proves his accusation, as he is pretty sure to do, "Jim" Campbell will only be too glad to withdraw.

PUBLIC OPINION.

The nomination of Charles F. Tabor to be Attorney-General is not a blunder; it is a crime. By such a course the Governor defies public opinion, and will find that he cannot do that with impunity.—New York Herald.

Gov. Hill's picture is being hung up in saloons and bar rooms throughout New England in order to familarize his friends with the physiognomy of the next Democratic Presidential candidate. He is "Whisky's Governor" now and he hopes to be Whisky's President.—Springfield Union.

The renominations of Wemple and Tabor are insults to the honest voters and tax-payers of the state, who have a good chance now to rebuke flagrant corruption in state jobbery at Albany. They know where and how to punish guilt, and have the punishment in their own hands.—Binghamton Republican.

Gov. Hill used Tabor to protect the criminals who perpetrated the Capitol ceiling fraud, by which the people of the state were deliberately robbed of $100,000. Mr. Tabor is a fairly good lawyer, but his record since he has been Attorney-General ought to disqualify him from holding any public office. In a lesser degree the same remark applies to Edward Wemple, the candidate for Comptroller.—Brooklyn Standard-Union.

Naturally, one asks why Governor Hill was so exceedingly anxious to put the "paper mash" ticket through. * * Some will account for it in one way and some in another. Some, remembering the scandals in connection with the executive mansion and other unsavory reminiscences of Hill's career, will not be charitable in their interpretation of his extraordinary efforts to "vindicate" the most prominent officials in the capitol ceiling scandals.—Saratogian.

The names of Wemple and Tabor are tainted names. The one permitted unauthorized payments on the ceiling contract, and the other refused to prosecute the chief offender in that notorious business, until, upon the day before the meeting of the convention, he caused the arrest of the contractor, solely to advance his own political aspirations. The dodge was so transparent as to inspire the two strongest bodies of men—Tammany Hall and the County Democracy—to oppose his nomination.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Saturated with rum and smeared with scandal the Democratic party asks the people to continue it in power. Was ever a more impudent demand made by a corrupt political party? The ticket is an affront to honesty, to decency, to public sense. In no way could the Democracy of this state have invited Republican victory better than by nominating the men they chose at Syracuse to carry their banner next month. The contrast between the Republican repudiation of the ceiling scandal and the Democratic espousal of it is almost startling. It is much like political hari-kari. Yet under the lash of Hill the leaders fell into line weeks ago and the course then deliberately decided upon has been stubbornly adhered to.—Buffalo Express.

Comptroller Wemple and Attorney General Tabor have made such unsavory records for themselves in their official relations to the Assembly ceiling scandal that, notwithstanding the party usage of renominating state officers, one-third of the delegates in the State Convention were uncompromisingly hostile to them. On the floor of the convention bold words were uttered of warning against these improper and unpopular selections, and these declarations were backed up by the votes from the strongest Democratic localities in the state. But it was apparent that Gov. Hill's personal plan included their nominations, which were forced upon an unwilling convention. The taints upon the official records of Wemple and Tabor are clearly revealed in the free light of publicity, and will be an issue in this canvass.—Syracuse Journal.

Governor Hill has opened the Democratic campaign in person, speaking last night at a serenade given in his honor by a Democratic club of Kingston. His speech was in the main a rehash of his vetoes of the liquor bills passed by the last Legislature and of the Saxton Ballot Reform bill, together with an attempt to prove the Republicans alone responsible for the ceiling scandal, and to show that Controller Wemple and Attorney-General Tabor are white-winged angels. We are prepared to hear Mr. Hill repeat these things in different words every time he speaks during the campaign. They are his stock in trade. As this is in a peculiar sense his campaign, he will doubtless feel inclined to carry the burden of it himself. A series of speeches like that at Kingston will be monotonous, but they will make many Republican votes.—New York Tribune.

Comptroller Wemple and Attorney General Tabor, who are inextricably encompassed with the Assembly ceiling scandal, were renominated. This was the will of the Governor, but more than all else the wish of the liquor interests of the state. Against them the protest was as a ripple compared with a tidal wave. The failure of the convention to discard these two candidates is the peerless political blunder of the Democratic campaign anywhere. The party is thereby placed wholly upon the defensive. The people see in contrast an irreproachable Republican state ticket, and the Republicans who were connected with the Assembly ceiling scandal relegated to private life. On the other hand, Democrats soiled by the papier-mache swindle, are approved and honored in the most emphatic and public manner by their party.—Troy Times.

The two exceptions are Comptroller Wemple and Attorney General Tabor, whose renomination Governor Hill, for reasons best known to himself, has forced upon a reluctant party and a hostile public. These officials are connected with the ceiling frauds in a way that makes their renomination a challenge to all decent voters in the state. Whether they are guilty or not of stealing or of sharing in the plunder of the vulgar thieves who concocted the job, they certainly failed to use due vigilance and energy in preventing the swindling operations and in bringing the rascals to justice afterwards. They cannot shirk responsibility for this criminal negligence; nor can the Democratic party, which has actually approved their official course, succeed in obscuring and befogging the real issue before the people, which is, "Shall state officials who wink at public plunder be rewarded at the next election by re-election?" —Buffalo Commercial Advertiser.

The best medical writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating easy of application, and one that will reach all the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh during the past obliges us to admit that only one remedy has met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. The more distressing symptoms yield to it.

A VETERAN.

I was wounded in the leg at the battle of Stone River Dec. 31st, 1862. My blood was poisoned from the effects of the wound, and the leg swelled to double its natural size, and remained so for many years. The poison extended to my whole system, and I suffered a thousand deaths. Nothing did me any good until I took Swift's Specific, which took the poison out of my system, and enabled me to feel myself a man again. S. S. S. is the remedy for blood poison.

Irish Catholic Benevolent Societies Considering a Plan for the Formation of a Local Union—Disease that Has Baffled Medical Skill—Hail Stones, Etc.

The blocks are being prepared at Portsmouth dock-yard for laying the keel of the first-class battle-ship Royal Sovereign. It is said to be a barbette ship, 380 feet long by 75 feet beam, and will displace 14,150 tons. Its machinery will indicate 13,000 horse-power under forced draught and 9,000 horse-power under natural draught, which it is expected will drive it 17.5 knots an hour under forced and 16 knots an hour under natural draught. Its draught of water will be 27 feet, six inches, the same as that of the Trafalgar. Its armament will be four 67-ton guns, 10 six-inch breach-loading guns, 24 six-pounders and three-pounder quick-firing guns, five torpedo tubes above water, and two submerged tubes. A belt of 1[illegible]-inch armor, eight and a half feet deep, will extend over two-thirds of its length. At the ends of the belt are traverse armored bulkheads, and a three-inch steel deck is fitted above it, while a protective under-water deck extends from the armor belt to the bow and stern. The battery above the armor is protected by five-inch armor and screen bulkheads. The freeboard at the end of the vessel is to be 18 feet, and the height of the heavy guns above the water is to be 23 feet.

Harvey Leschen, son of August Leschen, near Manchester, Mo., is the victim of a very peculiar disease which has baffled the medical skill of that place. Last summer, while in swimming in the Meramec, the lad was bitten on the left thigh by some creature. Nothing was thought of the bite, as the wound soon healed, leaving a small scar as the only trace. About September 1 a peculiar pricking sensation was noticed in the limb of the boy, and soon small red spots began to appear in the vicinity of the wound. These spots soon spread all over the leg and began to change color, gradually turning green. The wound opened again, and at times a milky fluid flowed forth. The diseased limb gives no pain, only a benumbed sensation being experienced by the lad. Dr. Arnold has frequently during the past two weeks tapped the member and has taken out quantities of water. He pronounces the disease dropsy, but cannot account for the peculiar spots. Blood freely circulates through the femoral artery, but is more like water than the true nutritive fluid. The limb is entirely under control of the lad, he being able to walk two or three miles at a time without feeling tired.

The 50 societies of the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union of Philadelphia are considering a plan for the formation of a local union of all the societies to enable them to perform more efficient service and to facilitate the organization of new societies as well as to strengthen those already in existence. It is proposed to establish a bureau of labor, through which members of the societies could secure employment.

Two of the principal members of the Cranbourne Club, London, have been found guilty of gambling and sentenced to pay a fine of £250 each or be imprisoned for three months. Twenty-one other members have been fined £50 each, and others have given sureties of £100 each not to gamble for six months.

Five hail stones, picked up at random by a young women in Philadelphia, on Tuesday afternoon, weighed nearly 24 drachms. After melting the water weighed but 11 drachms, showing a loss of 13 drachms by evaporation.

Camp-Fire Stories.
[From Forest and Stream.]

Several years since the skipper and myself pulled down to Great Marsh before sundown to get a few shots at black duck, which were striking in quite plentifully. The skipper set the stools, while I busied myself in shoving my boat into the edge of the marsh and covering it with sedge so that the birds might not sight me as I lay in it. As soon as he had finished the stools the skipper pulled away to a favorite blind, and by that time I was ready for business. The dusk was set in and we had had no shots, and I had been intently watching for any birds which might fly over, when I glanced at the decoys and saw that the skipper had set more than he said he had. That is, I thought he said seven, and surely I counted eight. My first impulse was to cover that extra bird, and my gun was at my shoulder before I happened to think that possibly it might be that he was mistaken, and that if I filled his decoys full of shot he might not be filled with happiness; and besides, the laugh would never be over with the boys. I wavered a minute between an impulse to "turn her loose" on the outside bird, but he was so quietly resting on the water without a quack or perceptible motion to be noticed through the dusk, that I had not the sand to take the chance of its not being a decoy. No duck had lit, and this extra one might easily be a decoy set by the skipper in excess of the seven he had told me he placed. To solve the problem I gently rocked the boat in the marsh. Whir! Bang! Up got a black duck and off over the marsh he whistled, followed by my right barrel, but too late. The duck must have swam up from some distant part of the marsh, and so quietly that I had not seen it till it was among the decoys. I didn't say anything about my brilliancy to the skipper. He had no delicacy of feeling, and would laugh.

Getting Ahead of the "Old Man."
[From Forest and Stream.]

A good story has never been told in print of Reuben Wood, that genial friend to everybody, whose death was so widely mourned. He was a true son of good old Izaak Walton, an enthusiastic and successful angler, of course. One evening while in camp in the Adirondacks, he was challenged by a member of the party whose knowledge of angling was but slight. The conditions were that they should stand near each other by the side of a favorite pool, each casting into the pool during a period of 15 minutes, the contest to be decided by count. Uncle Reube's eyes glistened as the details of the match were considered, and at the same time he set about "making up" a new cast of flies, that he might be able to do his best when the struggle came the following day. It was prepared with all his wonted skill, cunning and delicacy, and laying the new "cast" and his cigar aside he lay down to dream of how he would lure the dainty trout to his creel. At the appointed hour the contest began, with usual judges and a referee. The challenger oft and repeatedly led beautiful trout to his score, but Mr. Wood was less fortunate. He was not successful in "striking" his "rises," and only now and then did he secure a fish. Late in the contest he exchanged the leader he had made up so carefully for one which had been much used, and then his luck began; but it was too late, for when the time for the contest expired he was badly beaten. The real reason of his failure was kept a secret for some time, but it finally became known that while Mr. Wood slept the challenger had filed the barbs from his hooks. In no other way could that noble-minded man have been beaten.

Ducks Were Discontented.
[From the Middletown Argus.]

George Stevenson, of Cornwall Landing, recently took to Pollopell's Island an old duck and a brood of young ones. They seemed discontented and dissatisfied with their new abode. Not long after their arrival Mrs. Stevenson missed the old duck and its brood, and upon going down to the River bank discovered them well started on a journey for shore and to their former home. The old one would stop and allow the little ones to climb upon its back and then start again on their trip. After much flustering and quacking the brood finally reached shore in safety, and had to be again removed to the island next day.

A VETERAN.

I was wounded in the leg at the battle of Stone River Dec. 31st, 1862. My blood was poisoned from the effects of the wound, and the leg swelled to double its natural size, and remained so for many years. The poison extended to my whole system, and I suffered a thousand deaths. Nothing did me any good until I took Swift's Specific, which took the poison out of my system, and enabled me to feel myself a man again. S. S. S. is the remedy for blood poison.

The blocks are being prepared at Portsmouth dock-yard for laying the keel of the first-class battle-ship Royal Sovereign. It is said to be a barbette ship, 380 feet long by 75 feet beam, and will displace 14,150 tons. Its machinery will indicate 13,000 horse-power under forced draught and 9,000 horse-power under natural draught, which it is expected will drive it 17.5 knots an hour under forced and 16 knots an hour under natural draught. Its draught of water will be 27 feet, six inches, the same as that of the Trafalgar. Its armament will be four 67-ton guns, 10 six-inch breach-loading guns, 24 six-pounders and three-pounder quick-firing guns, five torpedo tubes above water, and two submerged tubes. A belt of 1[illegible]-inch armor, eight and a half feet deep, will extend over two-thirds of its length. At the ends of the belt are traverse armored bulkheads, and a three-inch steel deck is fitted above it, while a protective under-water deck extends from the armor belt to the bow and stern. The battery above the armor is protected by five-inch armor and screen bulkheads. The freeboard at the end of the vessel is to be 18 feet, and the height of the heavy guns above the water is to be 23 feet.

Harvey Leschen, son of August Leschen, near Manchester, Mo., is the victim of a very peculiar disease which has baffled the medical skill of that place. Last summer, while in swimming in the Meramec, the lad was bitten on the left thigh by some creature. Nothing was thought of the bite, as the wound soon healed, leaving a small scar as the only trace. About September 1 a peculiar pricking sensation was noticed in the limb of the boy, and soon small red spots began to appear in the vicinity of the wound. These spots soon spread all over the leg and began to change color, gradually turning green. The wound opened again, and at times a milky fluid flowed forth. The diseased limb gives no pain, only a benumbed sensation being experienced by the lad. Dr. Arnold has frequently during the past two weeks tapped the member and has taken out quantities of water. He pronounces the disease dropsy, but cannot account for the peculiar spots. Blood freely circulates through the femoral artery, but is more like water than the true nutritive fluid. The limb is entirely under control of the lad, he being able to walk two or three miles at a time without feeling tired.

The 50 societies of the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union of Philadelphia are considering a plan for the formation of a local union of all the societies to enable them to perform more efficient service and to facilitate the organization of new societies as well as to strengthen those already in existence. It is proposed to establish a bureau of labor, through which members of the societies could secure employment.

Two of the principal members of the Cranbourne Club, London, have been found guilty of gambling and sentenced to pay a fine of £250 each or be imprisoned for three months. Twenty-one other members have been fined £50 each, and others have given sureties of £100 each not to gamble for six months.

Five hail stones, picked up at random by a young women in Philadelphia, on Tuesday afternoon, weighed nearly 24 drachms. After melting the water weighed but 11 drachms, showing a loss of 13 drachms by evaporation.

Camp-Fire Stories.

[From Forest and Stream.]

Several years since the skipper and myself pulled down to Great Marsh before sundown to get a few shots at black duck, which were striking in quite plentifully. The skipper set the stools, while I busied myself in shoving my boat into the edge of the marsh and covering it with sedge so that the birds might not sight me as I lay in it. As soon as he had finished the stools the skipper pulled away to a favorite blind, and by that time I was ready for business. The dusk was set in and we had had no shots, and I had been intently watching for any birds which might fly over, when I glanced at the decoys and saw that the skipper had set more than he said he had. That is, I thought he said seven, and surely I counted eight. My first impulse was to cover that extra bird, and my gun was at my shoulder before I happened to think that possibly it might be that he was mistaken, and that if I filled his decoys full of shot he might not be filled with happiness; and besides, the laugh would never be over with the boys. I wavered a minute between an impulse to "turn her loose" on the outside bird, but he was so quietly resting on the water without a quack or perceptible motion to be noticed through the dusk, that I had not the sand to take the chance of its not being a decoy. No duck had lit, and this extra one might easily be a decoy set by the skipper in excess of the seven he had told me he placed. To solve the problem I gently rocked the boat in the marsh. Whir! Bang! Up got a black duck and off over the marsh he whistled, followed by my right barrel, but too late. The duck must have swam up from some distant part of the marsh, and so quietly that I had not seen it till it was among the decoys. I didn't say anything about my brilliancy to the skipper. He had no delicacy of feeling, and would laugh.

Getting Ahead of the "Old Man."

[From Forest and Stream.]

A good story has never been told in print of Reuben Wood, that genial friend to everybody, whose death was so widely mourned. He was a true son of good old Izaak Walton, an enthusiastic and successful angler, of course. One evening while in camp in the Adirondacks, he was challenged by a member of the party whose knowledge of angling was but slight. The conditions were that they should stand near each other by the side of a favorite pool, each casting into the pool during a period of 15 minutes, the contest to be decided by count. Uncle Reube's eyes glistened as the details of the match were considered, and at the same time he set about "making up" a new cast of flies, that he might be able to do his best when the struggle came the following day. It was prepared with all his wonted skill, cunning and delicacy, and laying the new "cast" and his cigar aside he lay down to dream of how he would lure the dainty trout to his creel. At the appointed hour the contest began, with usual judges and a referee. The challenger oft and repeatedly led beautiful trout to his score, but Mr. Wood was less fortunate. He was not successful in "striking" his "rises," and only now and then did he secure a fish. Late in the contest he exchanged the leader he had made up so carefully for one which had been much used, and then his luck began; but it was too late, for when the time for the contest expired he was badly beaten. The real reason of his failure was kept a secret for some time, but it finally became known that while Mr. Wood slept the challenger had filed the barbs from his hooks. In no other way could that noble-minded man have been beaten.

Ducks Were Discontented.

[From the Middletown Argus.]

George Stevenson, of Cornwall Landing, recently took to Pollopell's Island an old duck and a brood of young ones. They seemed discontented and dissatisfied with their new abode. Not long after their arrival Mrs. Stevenson missed the old duck and its brood, and upon going down to the River bank discovered them well started on a journey for shore and to their former home. The old one would stop and allow the little ones to climb upon its back and then start again on their trip. After much flustering and quacking the brood finally reached shore in safety, and had to be again removed to the island next day.

A VETERAN.

I was wounded in the leg at the battle of Stone River Dec. 31st, 1862. My blood was poisoned from the effects of the wound, and the leg swelled to double its natural size, and remained so for many years. The poison extended to my whole system, and I suffered a thousand deaths. Nothing did me any good until I took Swift's Specific, which took the poison out of my system, and enabled me to feel myself a man again. S. S. S. is the remedy for blood poison.

Irish Catholic Benevolent Societies Considering a Plan for the Formation of a Local Union—Disease that Has Baffled Medical Skill—Hail Stones, Etc.

The blocks are being prepared at Portsmouth dock-yard for laying the keel of the first-class battle-ship Royal Sovereign. It is said to be a barbette ship, 380 feet long by 75 feet beam, and will displace 14,150 tons. Its machinery will indicate 13,000 horse-power under forced draught and 9,000 horse-power under natural draught, which it is expected will drive it 17.5 knots an hour under forced and 16 knots an hour under natural draught. Its draught of water will be 27 feet, six inches, the same as that of the Trafalgar. Its armament will be four 67-ton guns, 10 six-inch breach-loading guns, 24 six-pounders and three-pounder quick-firing guns, five torpedo tubes above water, and two submerged tubes. A belt of 18-inch armor, eight and a half feet deep, will extend over two-thirds of its length. At the ends of the belt are traverse armored bulkheads, and a three-inch steel deck is fitted above it, while a protective under-water deck extends from the armor belt to the bow and stern. The battery above the armor is protected by five-inch armor and screen bulkheads. The freeboard at the end of the vessel is to be 18 feet, and the height of the heavy guns above the water is to be 23 feet.

Harvey Leschen, son of August Leschen, near Manchester, Mo., is the victim of a very peculiar disease which has baffled the medical skill of that place. Last summer, while in swimming in the Meramec, the lad was bitten on the left thigh by some creature. Nothing was thought of the bite, as the wound soon healed, leaving a small scar as the only trace. About September 1 a peculiar pricking sensation was noticed in the limb of the boy, and soon small red spots began to appear in the vicinity of the wound. These spots soon spread all over the leg and began to change color, gradually turning green. The wound opened again, and at times a milky fluid flowed forth. The diseased limb gives no pain, only a benumbed sensation being experienced by the lad. Dr. Arnold has frequently during the past two weeks tapped the member and has taken out quantities of water. He pronounces the disease dropsy, but cannot account for the peculiar spots. Blood freely circulates through the femoral artery, but is more like water than the true nutritive fluid. The limb is entirely under control of the lad, he being able to walk two or three miles at a time without feeling tired.

The 50 societies of the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union of Philadelphia are considering a plan for the formation of a local union of all the societies to enable them to perform more efficient service and to facilitate the organization of new societies as well as to strengthen those already in existence. It is proposed to establish a bureau of labor, through which members of the societies could secure employment.

Two of the principal members of the Cranbourne Club, London, have been found guilty of gambling and sentenced to pay a fine of £250 each or be imprisoned for three months. Twenty-one other members have been fined £50 each, and others have given sureties of £100 each not to gamble for six months.

Five hail stones, picked up at random by a young women in Philadelphia, on Tuesday afternoon, weighed nearly 24 drachms. After melting the water weighed but 11 drachms, showing a loss of 13 drachms by evaporation.

Camp-Fire Stories.

[From Forest and Stream.]

Several years since the skipper and myself pulled down to Great Marsh before sundown to get a few shots at black duck, which were striking in quite plentifully. The skipper set the stools, while I busied myself in shoving my boat into the edge of the marsh and covering it with sedge so that the birds might not sight me as I lay in it. As soon as he had finished the stools the skipper pulled away to a favorite blind, and by that time I was ready for business. The dusk was set in and we had had no shots, and I had been intently watching for any birds which might fly over, when I glanced at the decoys and saw that the skipper had set more than he said he had. That is, I thought he said seven, and surely I counted eight. My first impulse was to cover that extra bird, and my gun was at my shoulder before I happened to think that possibly it might be that he was mistaken, and that if I filled his decoys full of shot he might not be filled with happiness; and besides, the laugh would never be over with the boys. I wavered a minute between an impulse to "turn her loose" on the outside bird, but he was so quietly resting on the water without a quack or perceptible motion to be noticed through the dusk, that I had not the sand to take the chance of its not being a decoy. No duck had lit, and this extra one might easily be a decoy set by the skipper in excess of the seven he had told me he placed. To solve the problem I gently rocked the boat in the marsh. Whir! Bang! Up got a black duck and off over the marsh he whistled, followed by my right barrel, but too late. The duck must have swam up from some distant part of the marsh, and so quietly that I had not seen it till it was among the decoys. I didn't say anything about my brilliancy to the skipper. He had no delicacy of feeling, and would laugh.

Getting Ahead of the "Old Man."

[From Forest and Stream.]

A good story has never been told in print of Reuben Wood, that genial friend to everybody, whose death was so widely mourned. He was a true son of good old Izaak Walton, an enthusiastic and successful angler, of course. One evening while in camp in the Adirondacks, he was challenged by a member of the party whose knowledge of angling was but slight. The conditions were that they should stand near each other by the side of a favorite pool, each casting into the pool during a period of 15 minutes, the contest to be decided by count. Uncle Reube's eyes glistened as the details of the match were considered, and at the same time he set about "making up" a new cast of flies, that he might be able to do his best when the struggle came the following day. It was prepared with all his wonted skill, cunning and delicacy, and laying the new "cast" and his cigar aside he lay down to dream of how he would lure the dainty trout to his creel. At the appointed hour the contest began, with usual judges and a referee. The challenger oft and repeatedly led beautiful trout to his score, but Mr. Wood was less fortunate. He was not successful in "striking" his "rises," and only now and then did he secure a fish. Late in the contest he exchanged the leader he had made up so carefully for one which had been much used, and then his luck began; but it was too late, for when the time for the contest expired he was badly beaten. The real reason of his failure was kept a secret for some time, but it finally became known that while Mr. Wood slept the challenger had filed the barbs from his hooks. In no other way could that noble-minded man have been beaten.

Ducks Were Discontented.

[From the Middletown Argus.]

George Stevenson, of Cornwall Landing, recently took to Pollopell's Island an old duck and a brood of young ones. They seemed discontented and dissatisfied with their new abode. Not long after their arrival Mrs. Stevenson missed the old duck and its brood, and upon going down to the River bank discovered them well started on a journey for shore and to their former home. The old one would stop and allow the little ones to climb upon its back and then start again on their trip. After much flustering and quacking the brood finally reached shore in safety, and had to be again removed to the island next day.

This edition is carefully printed, on good paper, from new plates, in leaded nonpareil type. In form it is a reproduction of the famous "Plum Pudding" edition that sold for $50.00.

The size of the page of type is 4x6½ inches; the outside measurement 5x7½ inches, making a neat pocket volume.

The fifteen volumes contain 5,200 pages, and average about 350 pages each.

The binding is wire stretching of the best quality, and a far superior to that of 50-cent books. If they were sold for $1.00 each, this work could not be better done. The covers are paper, of neat design.

There is nothing common about these books. The very cheapest of the cheap library editions costs five times the price and cannot be compared with this.

No one who sees them can credit the statement that they cost only $1.00, or understand how they can be sold at that price.

Outlook for Parade and Inspection of Fire Department Not Encouraging—Flushing Tank Tested—Fast of Yom Kippur—The Cat and Rat Both Ran Away.

The fast of Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement, the most solemn observance in the Jewish ritual, commences at sunset this evening and continues for 24 hours. During that period the Hebrew who observes the day in accordance with the orthodox ritual allows neither food nor drink to pass his lips, but this strict observance of the fast has fallen into disuse among the Reform Jews. Jewish places of worship will be open this evening and to-morrow. The services will be of a solemn and impressive character, ending with the blowing of the shopher, indicating that the annual fast is over.

The outlook for a parade and inspection of this City's Fire Department this fall is not encouraging. Chief Engineer Derrenbacher said to-day: "An appropriation of money by the Common Council would be necessary, but the fact that the City treasury has been drained settles the question of a donation of money. Last year the propriety of taking subscriptions among business men was considered, but the Foremen of several companies objected to such a procedure, and the idea of a parade was abandoned. It is safe to say that no inspection will be held this year."

One of the flushing-tanks of the First Ward sewers has been tested. This was done by the aid of a hose attached to a fire hydrant. As soon as the reservoir was full it flushed 300 gallons of water into the sewer-pipe in three-quarters of a minute. Water-pipes have not been attached to these flushing-tanks, the Water Company claiming that they are not obliged to furnish water free, the Common Council insisting that under their contract with the City they are bound to furnish water free for flushing sewers.

A balky horse on Union-avenue this forenoon caused a ripple of excitement. This was accepted by all sides. Another resolution asserts that as the high character of those engaged in the work of Indian education and the permanence of their tenure of office are essential to substantial progress, this Conference emphasizes the necessity of separating absolutely the appointments to such offices from the mutations of parties.

REV. HENRY W. SHERWOOD.

KIND WORDS FOR THE NEW PASTOR OF BAPTIST CHURCH.

Tribute of Respect by the First Baptist Church of Syracuse Adopted and Ordered On Record—Resolution of the Ministerial Association of that City.

Before leaving his late pastorate in Syracuse, the Rev. Henry W. Sherwood, the new Pastor of the Wurts-Street Baptist Church, received the following tribute of respect from the First Baptist Church of that City, which was unanimously approved, and the Clerk was ordered to place the same on the minutes of the Church record:

"Nearly eight years ago the Rev. Henry W. Sherwood, in response to a hearty and unanimous call, came to serve as Pastor to this Church. These years have united Pastor and people with bonds of affection which can never be broken, though we are called upon to separate in our Church relations. We are not unmindful that his labors, under God, have been most signally blessed—the large number who have united with this Church, and especially among the young, gives evidence of his peculiar fitness to garner souls. While now the 'harvest is great and the laborers are few,' and our Pastor and leader is fresh for the work, there comes, he feels, a call from God to go, if not to 'Nineveh,' to another field of labor. We reluctantly accept his positive resignation and grant letters of dismission to himself and Mrs. Sherwood. We assure them that the community in which they have resided and labored will be the better for their sojourn with us. We feel confident that we voice the sentiment of not only this church and congregation but of all the evangelical churches in Syracuse and vicinity when we say—by the going of the Rev. Mr. Sherwood from our midst that the cause of Christianity and all that makes for good government and nolbe manhood, will part with one of its most earnest, eloquent and devoted advocates—and that the Baptists, especially, will look in vain for a man more devoted to the denomination—or one more pronounced in his convictions. He has at all times declared with no uncertain meaning the doctrines of the church which he has so long and faithfully served."

"Brother Sherwood has met with us around the festive board; sat by the bedside of the sick, and said words of comfort and cheer to the dying; has stimulated the weary and encouraged to new and increased energy, and to the bereaved and afflicted given words of assurance that in the on-coming days a reunion and reuniting will surely come with those who have gone before."

"In severing his relations with us to assume the duties of Pastor and under shepherd in another portion of the great harvest field for the Master, we assure our brother, friend and co-laborer, that he will bear with him from this church and community a most hearty good cheer. We hope that God may crown his labors with unmeasured blessings, and that his life may be spared for many years to labor in the vineyard of the Lord."

The following was adopted at a meeting of the Syracuse Ministerial Association on Monday: "The Ministerial Association of Syracuse desire to record their high appreciation of the labors of our brother, the Rev. Henry W. Sherwood, as Secretary for a considerable period, in which office he has done much to promote the interests of the Association. We deeply regret to lose him from our number and from the churches of the City, and heartily commend him to the brethren of his new field."

IN AND ABOUT THIS CITY.

BITS OF NEWS, STORIES AND SOME HUMOR AND GOSSIP.

Outlook for Parade and Inspection of Fire Department Not Encouraging—Flushing Tank Tested—Fast of Yom Kippur—The Cat and Rat Both Ran Away.

The fast of Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement, the most solemn observance in the Jewish ritual, commences at sunset this evening and continues for 24 hours. During that period the Hebrew who observes the day in accordance with the orthodox ritual allows neither food nor drink to pass his lips, but this strict observance of the fast has fallen into disuse among the Reform Jews. Jewish places of worship will be open this evening and to-morrow. The services will be of a solemn and impressive character, ending with the blowing of the shopher, indicating that the annual fast is over.

The outlook for a parade and inspection of this City's Fire Department this fall is not encouraging. Chief Engineer Derrenbacher said to-day: "An appropriation of money by the Common Council would be necessary, but the fact that the City treasury has been drained settles the question of a donation of money. Last year the propriety of taking subscriptions among business men was considered, but the Foremen of several companies objected to such a procedure, and the idea of a parade was abandoned. It is safe to say that no inspection will be held this year."

One of the flushing-tanks of the First Ward sewers has been tested. This was done by the aid of a hose attached to a fire hydrant. As soon as the reservoir was full it flushed 300 gallons of water into the sewer-pipe in three-quarters of a minute. Water-pipes have not been attached to these flushing-tanks, the Water Company claiming that they are not obliged to furnish water free, the Common Council insisting that under their contract with the City they are bound to furnish water free for flushing sewers.

A balky horse on Union-avenue this forenoon caused a ripple of excitement. The driver was offered many suggestions from by-standers as to how to proceed to make the animal start, but he quieted them by saying: "I know this horse better than any of you. When he gets ready he will start up, and no sooner." And the driver's words proved prophetic.

DOINGS AT LAKE MOHONK TO-DAY.

Report of the Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions Read.

At the Mohonk Indian Conference to-day Dr. Lyman Abbott, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, made his report. The resolutions approve the general plan outlined by Commissioner Morgan for comprehensive and compulsory education by the Government in harmonious concurrence with the work of the churches and philanthropic societies. This was accepted by all sides. Another resolution asserts that as the high character of those engaged in the work of Indian education and the permanence of their tenure of office are essential to substantial progress, this Conference emphasizes the necessity of separating absolutely the appointments to such offices from the mutations of parties.

REV. HENRY W. SHERWOOD.

KIND WORDS FOR THE NEW PASTOR OF BAPTIST CHURCH.

Tribute of Respect by the First Baptist Church of Syracuse Adopted and Ordered On Record—Resolution of the Ministerial Association of that City.

Before leaving his late pastorate in Syracuse, the Rev. Henry W. Sherwood, the new Pastor of the Wurts-Street Baptist Church, received the following tribute of respect from the First Baptist Church of that City, which was unanimously approved, and the Clerk was ordered to place the same on the minutes of the Church record:

"Nearly eight years ago the Rev. Henry W. Sherwood, in response to a hearty and unanimous call, came to serve as Pastor to this Church. These years have united Pastor and people with bonds of affection which can never be broken, though we are called upon to separate in our Church relations. We are not unmindful that his labors, under God, have been most signally blessed—the large number who have united with this Church, and especially among the young, gives evidence of his peculiar fitness to garner souls. While now the 'harvest is great and the laborers are few,' and our Pastor and leader is fresh for the work, there comes, he feels, a call from God to go, if not to 'Nineveh,' to another field of labor. We reluctantly accept his positive resignation and grant letters of dismission to himself and Mrs. Sherwood. We assure them that the community in which they have resided and labored will be the better for their sojourn with us. We feel confident that we voice the sentiment of not only this church and congregation but of all the evangelical churches in Syracuse and vicinity when we say—by the going of the Rev. Mr. Sherwood from our midst that the cause of Christianity and all that makes for good government and nolbe manhood, will part with one of its most earnest, eloquent and devoted advocates—and that the Baptists, especially, will look in vain for a man more devoted to the denomination—or one more pronounced in his convictions. He has at all times declared with no uncertain meaning the doctrines of the church which he has so long and faithfully served."

"Brother Sherwood has met with us around the festive board; sat by the bedside of the sick, and said words of comfort and cheer to the dying; has stimulated the weary and encouraged to new and increased energy, and to the bereaved and afflicted given words of assurance that in the on-coming days a reunion and reuniting will surely come with those who have gone before."

"In severing his relations with us to assume the duties of Pastor and under shepherd in another portion of the great harvest field for the Master, we assure our brother, friend and co-laborer, that he will bear with him from this church and community a most hearty good cheer. We hope that God may crown his labors with unmeasured blessings, and that his life may be spared for many years to labor in the vineyard of the Lord."

The following was adopted at a meeting of the Syracuse Ministerial Association on Monday: "The Ministerial Association of Syracuse desire to record their high appreciation of the labors of our brother, the Rev. Henry W. Sherwood, as Secretary for a considerable period, in which office he has done much to promote the interests of the Association. We deeply regret to lose him from our number and from the churches of the City, and heartily commend him to the brethren of his new field."

IN AND ABOUT THIS CITY.

BITS OF NEWS, STORIES AND SOME HUMOR AND GOSSIP.

Outlook for Parade and Inspection of Fire Department Not Encouraging—Flushing Tank Tested—Fast of Yom Kippur—The Cat and Rat Both Ran Away.

The fast of Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement, the most solemn observance in the Jewish ritual, commences at sunset this evening and continues for 24 hours. During that period the Hebrew who observes the day in accordance with the orthodox ritual allows neither food nor drink to pass his lips, but this strict observance of the fast has fallen into disuse among the Reform Jews. Jewish places of worship will be open this evening and to-morrow. The services will be of a solemn and impressive character, ending with the blowing of the shopher, indicating that the annual fast is over.

The outlook for a parade and inspection of this City's Fire Department this fall is not encouraging. Chief Engineer Derrenbacher said to-day: "An appropriation of money by the Common Council would be necessary, but the fact that the City treasury has been drained settles the question of a donation of money. Last year the propriety of taking subscriptions among business men was considered, but the Foremen of several companies objected to such a procedure, and the idea of a parade was abandoned. It is safe to say that no inspection will be held this year."

One of the flushing-tanks of the First Ward sewers has been tested. This was done by the aid of a hose attached to a fire hydrant. As soon as the reservoir was full it flushed 300 gallons of water into the sewer-pipe in three-quarters of a minute. Water-pipes have not been attached to these flushing-tanks, the Water Company claiming that they are not obliged to furnish water free, the Common Council insisting that under their contract with the City they are bound to furnish water free for flushing sewers.

A balky horse on Union-avenue this forenoon caused a ripple of excitement. The driver was offered many suggestions from by-standers as to how to proceed to make the animal start, but he quieted them by saying: "I know this horse better than any of you. When he gets ready he will start up, and no sooner." And the driver's words proved prophetic.

DOINGS AT LAKE MOHONK TO-DAY.

Report of the Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions Read.

At the Mohonk Indian Conference to-day Dr. Lyman Abbott, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, made his report. The chief interest centered in the utterance relating to the contract church schools on the reservations. The resolutions approve the general plan outlined by Commissioner Morgan for comprehensive and compulsory education by the Government in harmonious concurrence with the work of the churches and philanthropic societies. This was accepted by all sides. Another resolution asserts that as the high character of those engaged in the work of Indian education and the permanence of their tenure of office are essential to substantial progress, this Conference emphasizes the necessity of separating absolutely the appointments to such offices from the mutations of parties.

All or any portion of this amount that could be lifted from the plates by the teeth or lips went to the competitor, it being a clause of the conditions that a competitor had to try each dish commencing with the one containing molasses and finishing with the soot. REV. HENRY W. SHERWOOD.

KIND WORDS FOR THE NEW PASTOR OF BAPTIST CHURCH.

Tribute of Respect by the First Baptist Church of Syracuse Adopted and Ordered On Record—Resolution of the Ministerial Association of that City.

Before leaving his late pastorate in Syracuse, the Rev. Henry W. Sherwood, the new Pastor of the Wurts-Street Baptist Church, received the following tribute of respect from the First Baptist Church of that City, which was unanimously approved, and the Clerk was ordered to place the same on the minutes of the Church record:

"Nearly eight years ago the Rev. Henry W. Sherwood, in response to a hearty and unanimous call, came to serve as Pastor to this Church. These years have united Pastor and people with bonds of affection which can never be broken, though we are called upon to separate in our Church relations. We are not unmindful that his labors, under God, have been most signally blessed—the large number who have united with this Church, and especially among the young, gives evidence of his peculiar fitness to garner souls. While now the 'harvest is great and the laborers are few,' and our Pastor and leader is fresh for the work, there comes, he feels, a call from God to go, if not to 'Nineveh,' to another field of labor. We reluctantly accept his positive resignation and grant letters of dismission to himself and Mrs. Sherwood. We assure them that the community in which they have resided and labored will be the better for their sojourn with us. We feel confident that we voice the sentiment of not only this church and congregation but of all the evangelical churches in Syracuse and vicinity when we say—by the going of the Rev. Mr. Sherwood from our midst that the cause of Christianity and all that makes for good government and nolbe manhood, will part with one of its most earnest, eloquent and devoted advocates—and that the Baptists, especially, will look in vain for a man more devoted to the denomination—or one more pronounced in his convictions. He has at all times declared with no uncertain meaning the doctrines of the church which he has so long and faithfully served."

"Brother Sherwood has met with us around the festive board; sat by the bedside of the sick, and said words of comfort and cheer to the dying; has stimulated the weary and encouraged to new and increased energy, and to the bereaved and afflicted given words of assurance that in the on-coming days a reunion and reuniting will surely come with those who have gone before."

"In severing his relations with us to assume the duties of Pastor and under shepherd in another portion of the great harvest field for the Master, we assure our brother, friend and co-laborer, that he will bear with him from this church and community a most hearty good cheer. We hope that God may crown his labors with unmeasured blessings, and that his life may be spared for many years to labor in the vineyard of the Lord."

The following was adopted at a meeting of the Syracuse Ministerial Association on Monday: "The Ministerial Association of Syracuse desire to record their high appreciation of the labors of our brother, the Rev. Henry W. Sherwood, as Secretary for a considerable period, in which office he has done much to promote the interests of the Association. We deeply regret to lose him from our number and from the churches of the City, and heartily commend him to the brethren of his new field."

Dredging the Hudson.

[From the Coeymans Herald.]

Contractor Myers has the contract and has commenced dredging the west channel in the River at this point. This has long been needed as boatmen have for some time experienced difficulties in this channel. Through the special efforts of Captain C. R. This will will be a great benefit to the freighters of this place and all line boats. There will now be a channel of nine feet at low water.
